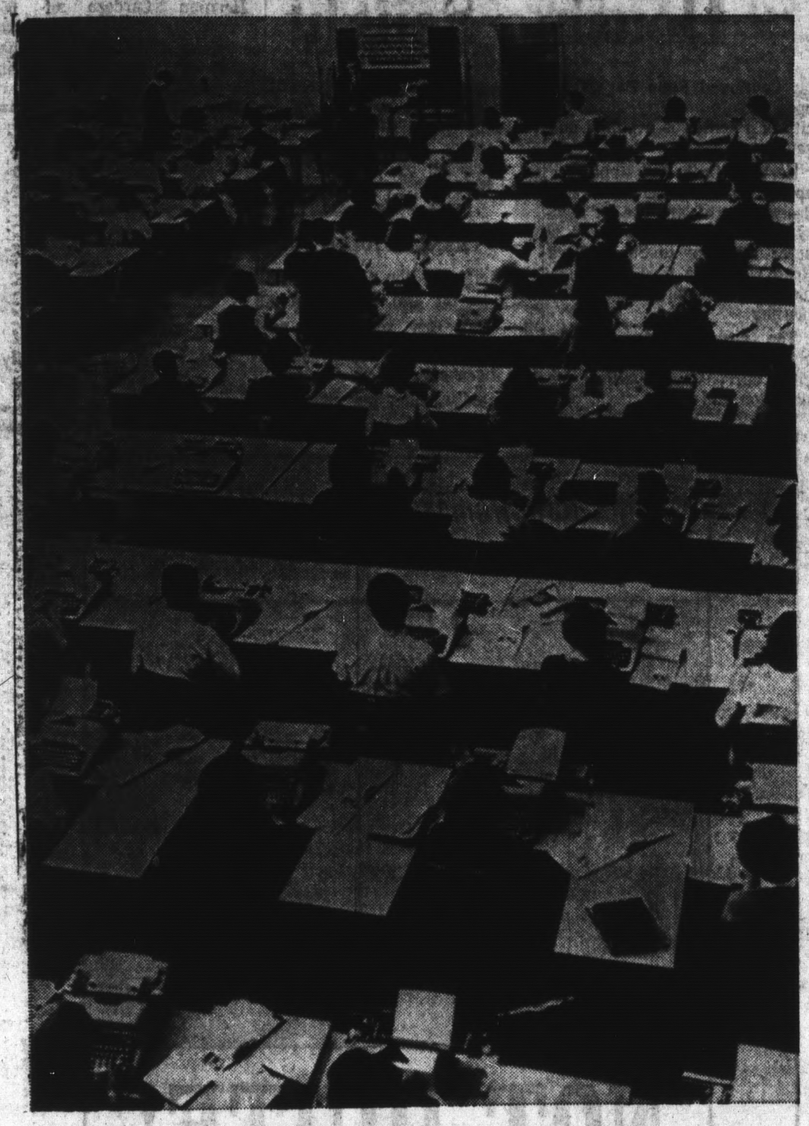
Summer Is School...



WHILE SOME North County youngsters are off in far-flung places on vacation trips, others decided this summer would be a good time to take courses they otherwise wouldn't have time for during the regular school year. One of the most popular of the courses is in typing. And to accommodate the large number of students who wanted to take typing, the Jefferson High School District went into team teaching for this class, held in the cafeteria of Jefferson High School. (For a view of what some of the "vacationing" youngsters are doing, see Page 15).

FOSTER RESIGNATION 'ILLEGAL'

JESD Still Has Superintendent

By DON MILLER

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees, to their profound chagrin, have been informed they can't hire a new superintendent because they still have one. Legally, that is.

The snafu came to light this week when Asst. Dist. Attorney Lois Scampini informed the district that former superintendent Richard Foster had "illegally" handed in his resignation.

Foster, now superintendent of the new San Ramon Unified School District in Contra Costa County, handed in his regisnation May 26, asking that it be made effective at the close of an accrued vacation period in October.

Miss Scampini told the board that state law prohibits a resignation in one school fiscal year that is to be made effective in another fiscal year. The fiscal year for school districts ends June 30.

Neither the board of trustees nor the county school office caught the legal technicality when Foster's resignation was accepted by the trustees.

The board will hold a special meeting at 6 tonight to untangle the legal red tape.

Board Chairman Thomas Noonan said trustees will be asked to approve a letter to Dr. Foster, requesting that he submit a letter of resignation, effective July 1 of this year.

Foster would be paid for a month's vacation.

Noonan termed the action the district will take "a matter of conforming with the law and protecting district funds."

In this regard, he said, the letter will ask Foster to submit his resignation or "report for work." Noonan noted that "we know he's not going to show up for work."

Nonetheless, the "report for work" alterna-

NORTH COUNTY HEARINGS

Residents, Teachers Rap School Unification Plans

A proposal to merge the South San Francisco Unified and Laguna Salada Elementary School districts into a unified district, previously assailed by South San Francisco school officials, was strongly opposed by the city's residents and its teachers at a public hearing last week.

The hearing had been called by the San Mateo County School District Organization Committee, which had tentatively approved a plan to merge the two districts and also to combine the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore Districts into another unified district.

Several residents at the hearing, held in the South San Francisco district's board room, questioned why the merger of South San Francisco and Laguna had been proposed.

They also asked why the committee won't approve a plan that would unify the area covered by the Jefferson High School District and let residents vote on the plan.

Dr. Paul Nielsen, superintendent of the South San Francisco district, said that changing the status of his district, which he said had been a going concern for 30 years, would be folly.

Robert Nissen, president of the Jefferson District Federation of Teachers, said he was

A public hearing on a proposal to unify the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore Elementary School District last week drew a turnout of only 15 persons, none of whom spoke in favor of the proposal.

The hearing, held in the Little Theatre of Westmoor High School in Daly City, had been called by the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

The committee has tentatively approved a plan that would unify the three elementary districts as one district and would join the Laguna Salada Elementary and South San Francisco Unified School Districts as a second unit.

The plan would split the Jefferson High School District.

At the hearing, a half-dozen speakers opposed the proposal to join the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore elementary districts — a plan that had been rejected by the State Board of Education last fall.

The proposal also was criti-

Final Vote Scheduled

The San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization was scheduled to meet last night in Redwood City to cast a final vote on proposals to unify the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore Elementary School Districts and to unify the Laguna Salada and South San Francisco School Districts.

A story on the vote and the next step in North County unification will be carried in next week's Post.

TV Antenna Firm Okayed In Daly City

Ambulance Co. Also Given Permit

The first community antenna system in Daly City moved a step closer to reality Monday night when the City Council approved a franchise to operate the service to the California Cable Communications Corporation of San Francisco.

The franchise was granted under a new law passed by the legislature. The council earlier this month adopted an ordinance, authorized by the law, providing for the granting of non-exclusive community antenna systems.

In its application for a permit, California Cable said it would service four areas in consecutive stages: Westlake Terrace, Westlake Park near Mayfair Avenue, Templeton Avenue and the Cow Palace region.

The company has proposed rates of $25 for initial installation and a $5 monthly service charge. For servicing a second television set, the charge would be $12.50 for installation and $1.25 monthly service charge.

Under the terms of the ordinance, the company must pay

PACIFICA PROPOSAL

Senior Citizen Housing Urged

A proposal for a senior citizen low rent housing center in Pacifica will be discussed at a meeting of the City Council at 8 tonight.

The Senior Housing Project Committee of the Fifty-Plus Club of Pacifica is asking the support of the City Council in taking the first steps to bring a low rent housing center to Pacifica.

In a letter to the council, a real and immediate need for a center was described by the club.

A study has been made by the city manager's office. It points out there would be no cost to taxpayers since 90 per cent of the funds would come from a federal grant and rent income would provide the other 10 per cent, which would be guaranteed by the government.

What neighbors say is the unsightly appearance of many vacant lots in the Sharp Park, Fairway Park, Vallemar, and Rockway Beach areas will be covered by a proposed resolution that will be introduced at tonight's meeting.

It declares: "The existence of weeds, rubbush, refuse and dirt

RE-APPRAISAL RESULT

Equalization Tax Reduced 15c by State

County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey had some good news today for the unhappy taxpayers whose property assessments were raised sharply this year.

The county-wide school equalization tax, which was 16 cents per $100 of assessed value last year, will be less than one cent this year, Tormey announced.

"It's about time for a little good news for a change," he commented.

The tax reduction is a direct result of the big increase in the assessment roll, as is the case with the tax rate decreases ordered by the various taxing jurisdictions.

The rate reduction will mean the most to the 40 per cent of parcels on which assessments were not increased this year and to those assigned only slight increases. In some cases, owners will actually be paying considerably less in taxes than last year.

Tormey said the state will collect only $93,509 under the equalization levy this year, compared with $1,580,141 last year. The amount to be collected, and the consequent tax rate, the school official explained, is based on a comparison of this county with all other counties regarding the ratio of assessed value to true market value. The levy is imposed by the state in counties whose ratios are under the state average. Last year, San Mateo County's ratio was 19.2 per cent and the state's was 22.1, hence the 16-cent equalization levy.

The special tax, Tormey explained, is levied to prevent

5-Step Pay Plan Aired By Trustees

Tentative approval of a five-step salary schedule for classified employees was given by the Jefferson Elementary School Trustees Monday evening.

A motion was adopted to appropriate 5 per cent of last year's total salary budget towards projected salary increases, which would be effected before January, 1966.

The Board delayed making a final decision on the five-step plan until a survey team can be consulted to recommend a salary schedule.

Almost all the trustees felt there were inequities in the present salary structure, some

No Bond for Sabbaticals Is Proposed

By LOUANNE HEATH

A proposal that teachers taking sabbatical leave not be required to post a bond to ensure their return was discussed Monday night by trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District.

Trustees asked District Supt. Edward Morgan to investigate alternative methods of ensuring the return of sabbatical-bound teachers. Morgan will report on his study at a meeting of the board Monday night.

In other action the board voted to raise the price of cafeteria lunches from 35 to 40 cents for

Colma Boy Killed on Skateboard

A three-year-old Colma boy, rolling along on his stomach on top of a skateboard, was fatally injured last Wednesday morning when the skateboard and an auto collided in an apartment house driveway.

The victim was Ronald Obertreiber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Obertreiber of 575 Villa Street.

He died of head injuries on the operating table in St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco about 11 a.m.

The driver of the car, Donald L. Hugetti, 31, of the Villa Manor Apartments at 591 Villa, told the California Highway Patrol that the youngster had been lying on the skateboard and rolling along a driveway serving the apartments.

Because of a slight rise in the driveway and because the youngster was so low to the ground, he did not see the boy in time to stop, Hugetti told the CHP.

The youngster was taken first to the Junipero Serra Medical Center and then rushed to St. Joseph's.

A spokesman at St. Joseph's said the boy's heart had stopped upon arrival but that doctors were able to revive him.

He then died on the operating table.

...And Summer Is Swimming

FAIR SKIES and a mercury on the rise Saturday was enough to convince a considerable number of North County folk that a day at the beach might not be a bad way to spend a summer day. And so, this was part of the scene at Thornton Beach where, according to beachgoers, the sunning was on the plus side and the water temperature (as expected) on the minus side of the day's ledger. tive is needed, Noonan explained. Otherwise, the district would be legally bound to pay a salary to Foster under the terms of a four-year contract the former superintendent held when he resigned.

Foster had three years left on the $21,000-a-year pact when he stepped down.

Noonan said that until Foster's "new" letter of resignation is received, the district cannot legally hire a new superintendent.

He disclosed that a successor to Foster has been selected by the board, based upon the recommendations of a five-man, blue-ribbon screening committee.

Noonan said a contract would be offered to the candidate and his name would be announced if he accepts the agreement.

However, the candidate would not be named superintendent, as such, until Foster's "new" letter is received, Noonan pointed out, because the district then would illegally have two superintendents.

The board chairman said the successor probably would be named a "consultant" to the board until the second resignation is effective, even though the successor would, in effect, be fulfilling the role of superintendent.

In addition to the vacancy in the superintendent's post, the district also has an assistant superintendent's chair to fill.

David Shapiro, assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs, resigned July 12, effective September 1.

Since he submitted his resignation the same fiscal year in which it was to be made effective, Shapiro is not affected by the legal technicality that has tied up the superintendent's chair.

Small Group Appears at Unity Meet

cized in a resolution forwarded to the committee by the Jefferson Union High School District's board of trustees.

(The board has called upon the State Legislature to take one of three alternatives: Place unification in the hands of the county board of education, mandate unification through legislation or repeal the unification laws.)

Despite the fact that no one present testified in behalf of the proposal last week, the committee indicated it felt it had the support of the elementary school districts, which have traditionally opposed plans to unify within the configuration of the Jefferson High School District area.

Committee member Thomas Noonan, in discussing the state board's earlier rejection of the plan, commented that the state has not concerned itself with whether or not a plan is acceptable to the voters.

The committee, therefore, can not concern itself with the "what if" aspects involved in submission of the two proposed unified districts, he said.

While members of the state board have evidenced primary concern with existing high school boundaries when making decisions, Noonan pointed out, voters are far more likely to be influenced by the boundaries of their "community of identification" when voting on unification measures.

The county committee has contended that to unify along the existing lines of the high school would create a district that would be too large, both for administration and in geographic area.

Members of both the Jefferson Federated Teachers and the Jefferson High School District Teachers' Associations spoke in support of unification along high school disrtict boundary lines.

amazed by the proposal. He criticized delays to date in unifying North County schools.

Councilman Fred Ballew of Pacifica noted that his council favors a vote by the electorate on unifying all of the area covered by the Jefferson High School District.

The proposal to join Laguna Salada with S. S. F. would result in a unified district of about 21,000 students.

The committee said the merger would effect a 27-cent boost in the tax rate for South San Francisco residents and an 87-cent tax reduction for Laguna Salada residents.

The figures are based on present budgets.

Five-Step Pay Plan Proposed

employees being underpaid while others "grossly overpaid" and that the survey is necessary to eliminate these.

The present schedule has seven steps.

Thomas Noonan, board chairman, cited as an example the present starting cafeteria salary. He noted:

"You will find that it has a higher starting wage than the maximum in other school districts. This limits our opening of new cafeterias."

He emphasized the importance in all salary schedules of bringing up the wages of people who are low and "holding the line" with those who are well paid.

Board members agreed that the change to five steps could be made most simply by eliminating the first and second year.

The proposed schedule would start a school secretary, for example, at $402 rather than $376, or a bus driver at $460 monthly rather than $429.

Comparison of present classified salaries to neighboring school districts shows many variances, trustees were told.

For instance, a custodian starts at $434 a month in Jefferson Elementary while the starting salary in South San Francisco is $456. However, an hourly helper receives $1.90 in Jefferson and $1.50 in South San Francisco.

Discussion of the salaries will be continued in a budget session next week.

Before the salary discussion Monday night, representatives of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association, and the Classified Employees' Association made a strong plea for a choice in selection of a health plan.

They asked for a dual plan with Blue Cross and Kaiser participating rather than the present district health plan.

Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz reminded the speakers that Jefferson was one of the first districts in the state to provide a health plan for employees and questioned the employes' desire for a change.

Noonan suggested the teachers vote on alternatives. However, representatives of the teacher and employee groups stated that a survey had been made and that a choice of plans had been requested.

A Blue Cross representative stated that Jefferson is the only school district in San Mateo County that does not have Blue Cross.

Noonan demanded to know why the district's present plan was unsatisfactory and why a change was requested.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas stated, "I have the feeling that there is a lot more to this than the choice of two plans."

Other trustees objected to doing business with more than one carrier (Kaiser requires two plans) and questioned whether administrative costs might be involved.

Trustees finally agreed to invite a representative of the District's present health plan to the board's next meeting before considering any change.

two per cent of its receipts to Daly City.

The firm said that channels to be received by subscribers would include 2, 4, 5, 7 and 9 and that subject to Federal Communications Commission approval, this would be expanded to include two Sacramento stations, a San Jose station and a station in Salinas.

In other action Monday night, the council approved a permit for Mercy Ambulance Company to operate its vehicles in Daly City under the provisions of a new ordinance adopted earlier this month.

In its application for the permit, the company pointed out that it has served the city since 1960 and it is the only company based in the area 24 hours a day. The permit covers three vehicles.

The council heard a report from City Manager Edward Frank on an impending investigation by the Public Utilities Commission into the status of warning devices for the Southern Pacific Railroad crossing at School Street.

New warning devices were installed when a detour was built on School in connection with Junipero Serra Freeway construction.

When the construction was finished, the detour was abandoned and School Street was shifted back to its original route, which no longer is served by warning devices.

Frank said he had written the PUC, saying the city believes the cost of installing new warning devices should be borne by the railroad and the PUC.

Equalization Tax Reduced 15c by State

counties from deliberately keeping their assessed values low in order to get more state aid, which is based on the amount of assessed value behind each student.

This year, Tormey said, the state has fixed San Mateo County's ratio at 24.8 per cent and the state-wide average at 21.8. Because the factor is computed on a three-year basis, however, the county is still required to levy an equalization tax, although but a fraction of what it was before.

Next year, the school official said, San Mateo County should be above the state average, even when figured on a three-year basis, and the equalization tax will thus be wiped out and the county will be entitled to additional funds from the state.

students and from 60 to 75 cents for the faculty.

The new price will be in line with rising costs involved in the cafeteria operation, Morgan said.

He asked the board to postpone—until the end of August—the appointment of members of a citizens' advisory committee that will work with the board in establishing boundaries for the district's high schools.

Members of the committee will be asked to formulate a student housing plan that will relieve overcrowding at Westmoor and that will redraw the district's boundaries to serve six high schools instead of the present four.

Trustees agreed that a 30-member committee should be named. The members will be selected on a geographical basis with the more heavily populated areas represented by a higher number of members.

The construction of Serramonte and Pengate High Schools will necessitate some revision in the boundaries of the four schools now in operation, Morgan indicated.

While the new schools are not yet constructed, plans have been formulated and the board will ask for state funds at the September meeting of the State Allocations board, Morgan said. No date has been set for that meeting.

With the opening of the bridge, motorists eastbound on Alemany, headed for areas east of the freeway construction, would no longer need to take a round-about way to reach Knowles. The bridge will provide a direct access.

Conversely, motorists southbound on Los Banos, bound for Westlake, also would no longer need to take a circuitous route.

The State Division of Highways said that additional reroutings will be necessary before the interchange and the freeway are opened fully to traffic.

West Park Plan Okayed

South San Francisco planners Monday approved a "planned community neighborhood shopping center" for the West Park area being built by Westborough Homes.

Plans for the shop center were presented to the planners for approval of architecture, layout, and planting, and were approved after long discussion.

Planners also okayed tentative maps for Stonegate Ridge, the planned community sector to be built along San Bruno Mountain just above the city's present northern limits.

By LE PACINI

READING of the long-shot attempt of former sandlot footballer (Peninsula, now Redwood City, Ramblers) and garbage collector Steve Anderson to win himself a third spot on a 49er quarterbacking staff already including George Mira, John Brodie and Billy Kilmer, suddenly jolted us the other day into remembrance of the rabid following sandlot football had at one time in this general area.

Specifically, we have in mind the old South San Francisco Windbreakers, not a man of whom, including coaching staff and waterboys, received a penny for performing.

If memory serves us, the Windbreakers, who were an athletic club and also participated in softball, soccer, etc., won the championship of the Western Football Association in 1949, and later entered the Northern California Athletic League where they also fared quite well.

The big hero of the squad was Robbie Barbetti, a bruising back. Aldo Detomasi was another outstanding back. Other names which seem to have stuck over the years are Laz Avelar and Joe Muzzin, also backs, and Ray Angeli, Pancho Angeli, Bill Verna, Charley Cortesi and Joe Abelar, all linemen.

A few of the other teams in the league were the Santa Cruz Seahawks, good old Horsetrader Ed's Broncos (Old Ed was loaded with ex-university stars like All-Coast Stanford back Emery Mitchell, and even had ex-49ers quarterback Paul Crowe—Ed probably didn't adhere to the strictly amateur rating), and Petaluma Leghorns. There were also the Manteca Falcons and Sunsets (San Francisco).

WE'RE STILL not sure what the point of this reminiscing is, except that it perhaps recalls the "good old days" when all athletes were noble and willing to get their heads bashed in for the love of sport, and all that sort of stuff, and it all seemed so adventurous when one was young and could make heroes out of 25-year-old garbage collectors who played football on Sundays.

But semi-pro football on the West Coast is not entirely dead. There is currently operating a very lively league called the Pacific Coast Conference, which extends from Eureka on the north to Santa Clara on the south.

The league serves the vacuum created for guys who love football but who just aren't quite good enough or don't wish to participate in the NFL or AFL. This, incidentally, is the league from which Steve Anderson has hopefully gained.

WE MENTIONED, a couple of weeks ago, that the Cardinals won their pennant last year because all their key men played every game, and that this year they are discovering what it's like to play with a lot of hurts.

No one can deny, however, that the Dodgers, Giants and Yankees are this year's injury champs—but compared to the 1949 pennant-winning Yankees, these clubs look like the "after" in a Vic Tanny ad.

Those Yankees had, count 'em, 74 injuries considered more than of a minor nature. But we guess the Yankees had it in the crutch that year.

WHILE STILL on crutches, we'd like to explain to Dodger fans still crying about the loss of Tommy Davis why his absence from the lineup has possibly not cost the Dodgers one game; whereas the loss of Orlando Cepeda from among the Giant regulars has, quite possibly, cost them several games.

It all boils down to how a team's foundation is laid. Giant strength is predicated on power; the Dodgers' on speed and two pitchers. Therefore, the loss of one hitter, such as Davis, means practically nothing to the Dodgers. But you take away Maury Wills, Don Drysdale or Sandy Koufax and then they're hurting badly.

Conversely, it would mean nothing to the Giants should they lose speed. They could have much easier, in our opinion, withstood the loss of Jesus Alou than Cepeda.

WHILE WE'RE still in a philosophical mood, we would also like to set forth the theory that today's hitters aren't worse than the oldtimers. It's just that today's pitchers are better than the old timers.

We will grant that batting averages have gone down partially through the choice of the batter because nowadays they pay for the big swing, the long ball, more than they do the smooth cut, the consistent single.

But that aside, modern pitchers are better because they throw a greater variety of pitches and have better control.

Juan Marichal, we'll admit, is exceptional, but he throws six different types of pitches (everything known to man except the knuckleball) two ways, overhand and sidearm. This, in effect, gives him 12 pitches, not counting change-ups.

There was never an old-timer who utilized that variety from so many directions or one who could control so many pitches.

Sure, you'll say, but Walter Johnson and Christy Mathewson and Dizzy Dean and Lefty Grove didn't need anything but a fast ball. That's true, but how many Groves, Mathewsons, Johnsons and Deans have there ever been?

The next argument will come in the form of a citation that Johnson and Mathewson and Cy Young, etc., etc., just never, never, walked anybody. Again, how many Johnsons, Mathewsons, Youngs, etc., etc., have there ever been?

Our point is that there are very few wild men around the majors today. Remember the Dodgers' Rex Barney who once threw a no-hitter and then walked his way into the minors? Barney wouldn't make it past spring training these days. But in the 40's he hung around for several years as a prime prospect.

Take note, for the rest of the season, how many big league pitchers will walk the bags loaded, or walk even two men in succession. Not many, we guarantee you, certainly not many who'll be back next year.

BRIEFS: Not second guessing but three of the American League's finest relief pitchers are ex-Giants: Stu Miller (Orioles), Eddie Fisher (White Sox) and Al Worthington (Twins) . . . although we'll always believe that Al Dark never used Miller often enough to keep him sharp . . . not knocking Marichal, but he's pitching all those shutouts because Franks is starting him in regular rotation, not saving him for the toughest teams . . . another case of a good starter wasted in relief is Minnesota's Jim Perry, who as a rookie was a fine starter, was made into a mediocre relief man by Birdie Tebbets at Cleveland, and has been recently reconverted to starting status by Sam Mele, winning about a half dozen straight games that way.

Down at the 'Ole Swimmin' Pool

Down the Fairway

A PLAYOFF decided a two-man best ball tournament over 36 holes, staged by the Cypress Hills Men's Club at the Cypress Hills Golf Course. The winners, McRobert McStewart and Frank Spadarella, defeated Bill Oats and Nick Giardella. Winning score was 113.

Next in order were: Dick Ferguson and Jack Eldson, 114; Vic Norwicki and Charles Piazza, 115; Bill Anselmo and Harry Eddson, 116; and Dino Lagomarsino and Vic Bello, 118.

MRS. CHET SMITH won top honors in a F&T Tournament held by the Cypress Hills Women's Golf Club on the Cypress Hills course. Her score was 93-30—63. Here are the tournament results:

Class A—Mrs. Norman Reed, 45-9½—35½; Mrs. Harold Belluomini, 43-6½—36½, and Mrs. Jack Sprague, 42-5—37.

Class B—Mrs. Elmo Ruiz, 44-14—30; Mrs. Tom Baldwin, 46-14—32, and Mrs. G. R. English, 46-12½—33½.

Class C—Mrs. James Sullivan, 49-16—33; Mrs. James Maddock, 50-15½—34½, and Mrs. H. B. Leinenweber, 51-16—35, and Mrs. Chet Smith, 51-15—35.

Fairs Near Roos-Atkins Golf Crown

George Fair and his son Jim of Daly City, apparently never tire of winning the annual Roos-Atkins Father and Son Golf Tournament.

The duo approached their third straight title by ousting George Benkie and George Jr., 5-4, at Golden Gate Golf Course Sunday.

The victory put them in next Sunday's finals against Harry and Gary Turner of Pebble Beach. The Turners, who play out of the Monterey Golf Club, sidelined Bill and Kevin Hogan of Mill Valley, 3-and-2.

The Fairs' victory was the result of constant pressure applied to their opponents by hitting the greens and putting for birdies on just about every hole on the short Golden Gate course.

Pee Wee Golf Outing, Two Dances Set by Teen Clubs

The Daly City Recreation Department's junior teen clubs are moving into the last month of summer activities. This week's events include a pee wee golf outing and two dances.

The Imperials and Majestics have slated an evening of pee wee golf and dancing for Tuesday.

Youngsters will leave the War Memorial Community Center at 5:30 p.m. for a golf game and will return to the same site for a record dance from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Cost of the activity is 65 cents for members and 85 cents for guests. Price includes both pee wee golf and the dance.

The Casualiers and Roof Raisers will meet at Jefferson Elementary School Tuesday evening for a "summer daze" dance.

Music will be provided by the Chessmen. Also featured on the evening's program are "lip singing" and dance contests.

Admission to the dance is 25 cents for members, 40 cents for guests. Dress will be casual, summer clothes.

Next Wednesday evening, Westmoor Park will be the scene of a record dance for members of the Telstars and Know Names.

Admission is 25 cents to members of both clubs, 50 cents to their guests.

Coast Teen Council Has 15 Members

The newly-formed Teen Council, sponsored by the Park, Beach, and Recreation Committee, has grown to 15 representatives from Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools.

Virginia Silva, a recreation major from San Jose State College, has been working with the council. Discipline has been well maintained, according to Miss Silva, and the youth in the community have expressed satisfactory activities.

The last teen dance of the summer will be entitled "Summer Heat Wave" and will be held in the Terra Nova High School cafeteria from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday. The Morlox will be the featured band.

The Teen Council also is planning a swimming-dance night every Tuesday, which will be continued through the fall.

A sports night (open gym) program on alternate Wednesdays will end August 13 but will be resumed in the fall, a council spokesman said.

Future plans of the council include a beach party, car wash, a "drop-in" center at Oddstad Hall Community Center and dances at Oceana and Terra Nova.

Two Leagues End Seasons

Two baseball leagues, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, have closed out their seasons.

The PAL Eagles won the Junior League title with a 13-2 record, posting a forfeit victory over the Holy Angels Shamrocks for their final win.

The Eagles were coached by Don Hackett and Rich Brewer.

In the Eastern Division of the Midget League, Blakes' Bulldogs and the OLM Panthers shared the championship, each with 6-1 records.

In final games, the Bulldogs downed the OLPH Orioles and the Panthers posted a 7-0 victory over the OLPH Bluejays. Tom Tijerino hurled a three-hit game for the Panthers. He also picked up a double and a single at the plate.

In other action, the BYA Tin Knockers trampled the OLM Rams, 27-7.

The OLPH Orioles took third place in the standings.

The 18th USGA Junior Amateur golf championship will be played Aug. 3-7 over the south course of the Wilmington Country Club, Wilmington, Del.

After 23 hitless efforts, New York Yankee first baseman Joe Pepitone singled against Kansas City to snap the longest 1965 slump by a Yankee regular.

Surfer 'Saved' By Firemen in Pacifica Test

A surfer was "rescued" from drowning in a very realistic rehearsal held early Saturday afternoon by the Pacifica Fire Department at Pedro Beach.

In conjunction with the Water Safety Committee of Pacifica, the mock rescue was arranged at Pedro Beach with the help of members of the Pedro Beach Surfing Club and the Pedro Point Surf Shop.

The "drowning" surfer who presumably had been hit by a surf board, was brought in from 300 yards off the beach by a member of the rescue squad of the Linda Mar Fire Station.

The surfer was carried on a board that is part of the standard equipment of Pacifica's two rescue trucks.

His rescuer was a qualified swimmer who had passed a rigid test given by the Fire Department. All Pacifica firemen are qualified swimmers and qualified to participate in beach rescues.

Once on the beach, the "victim" was wrapped in a blanket and put on a stretcher where resuscitation and oxygen were given.

By this time, the activity on the beach had attracted a curious crowd. Few realized the "rescue" was a drill until the "victim" assured them he was in good health.

A Bay Area ambulance stood by to "transport" the patient to the hospital. Firemen noted that the Rescue Squad must be kept available for other calls.

The two rescue trucks in Pacifica, one at Linda Mar and one at the main fire station at Pacific Manor, are equipped with full resuscitation equipment, shock treatment facilities, stretcher, first aid equipment, cutting torches and other power tools.

As well as responding to beach and ocean rescues, the rescue truck often is used in cliff rescues and for first aid in automobile accidents.

Although Pacifica is a beach community, it has no county or city lifeguards. So the fire department has assumed this duty, firemen point out. The beach rescue telephone number is 355-2875.

Library Gets New Records

A basic collection of new classical records has been purchased by the Sharp Park Library for its new record service.

This was made possible by a donation from the American Association of University Women which raised funds through house tours and other events.

The collection will be housed in the main room of the library. Records are presently being put in jackets and folders and cataloged by the regional librarian, Jannette Thompson. An announcement will be made of their availability to library visitors, she said.

Top Mateo Appraiser Leaves Job

Paul McKay, chief appraiser in the office of County Assessor Ralph Woodman, has left the job and is studying job offers in private business, it was learned last week.

McKay, 56, took his early retirement from civil service and officially will be retired July 31.

Henry Rankin, an appraiser since 1946 with the county, has been named acting chief appraiser until a permanent successor can be found.

Woodman last week called rumors that McKay had been fired as "simply not true." He simply had been offered jobs paying more money, he said.

McKay was criticized by homeowners at a meeting on July 7 before the Board of Supervisors.

In replying to pleas by homeowners over the new assessments, McKay stated at that time:

"The county assessor's office has nothing to do with taxes. If taxes go up, and I'll never say this again but it is true, we couldn't care less."

The chief property appraiser emphasized that he was merely trying to stress the role of his office.

Sugar ... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

THERE ARE many benefits and pleasures attached to the writing of a recipe column. Among other things, it's interesting to see how a recipe finally finds it's way into Sugar and Spice. For instance, late in June I spent a weekend at Camp Bothing, a Girl Scout camp in Fairfax. This was a training period for counselors and there were many of us there from all over the Bay Area. It was a busy and active weekend and we learned many new skills and crafts.

But we didn't spend all our time hiking, learning knot-tying, and planning cook-outs. There were periods of rest and relaxation and somehow (I wonder how?) the conversation turned to foods and recipes. As a result of this chattering over coffee cups, I have this recipe for a delicious cake to share with you good cooks.

The contributor is Mrs. Doris Echols of 1820 Seventh Street, Berkeley.

SOUR CREAM CAKE

½ pound butter
3 cups sugar
6 eggs
½ pint sour cream
3 cups flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla or lemon flavoring

Cream butter until fluffy. Add sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Add the eggs one at a time, being careful to beat each egg in well. Fold in the sour cream, flour and soda and flavoring.

Pour the batter into a greased and lightly floured tube pan and bake in 325-degree oven for one hour and 25 minutes or until brown.

RECENTLY I ran across a recipe I haven't used in years and on making it realized that by neglecting it, I'd missed a delicious dish. Not wanting you to miss out on this treat, I'll include it here.

DRIED LIMA BEAN CHOWDER

1 cup dried lima beans
1 large onion, minced
3 tablespoons bacon fat
1 cup water or stock
2 cups raw diced potatoes
4 cups stewed tomatoes, fresh or canned
1½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon minced parsley

Soak the beans overnight in water to cover. In the morning, simmer until tender in fresh water to cover. Meanwhile, cook onion in bacon fat until golden brown. Add the water or stock (I used bouillon) along with the potatoes and cook until they are tender. Combine with the beans and liquor in which they are cooked, add tomatoes, seasonings and sugar. Bring to boiling point and thicken with the creamed butter and flour. Simmer five minutes longer and sprinkle in the parsley.

WE HASTEN to include a typographical ommission on Herman's Hermits. The amount of shortening was missing—one cup butter or margarine.

TAKE A RIDE down Alemany Boulevard or a jaunt out Junipero Serra Boulevard, journey a way down Skyline Boulevard or visit San Francisco and drive home via almost any major route and the view will be dominated by the sight of the new Mary's Help Hospital.

The intriguing sight of that huge, watchful sentinel, standing stalwart atop its lookout knoll south of the more densely populated sections of our suburban communities, is not an uncommon one to most of us. Equally common, I'm sure, is a curiosity about the new hospital. What will it be like, what facilities will it offer, what impact will it have on this area?

The need for a hospital on the northern Peninsula was evident to localites long, long ago. It was with a huge sigh of relief that most persons received the word that one of San Francisco's most respected hospitals had elected to move out of the heart of the metropolitan area and establish its new quarters where it would be more easily accessible to suburban dwellers.

Immediately upon receipt of the official announcement of the move, this particular area began to feel the impact caused by the growth of a vital and virile complex. Not only was there the visible evidence on the mountain top, gradually stretching upward day by day, but there also was an intangible something working within the communities.

There was something big afoot and all knew that each could be a part of seeing to it that Mary's Help Hospital had all the support it needed to build a lovely, super-efficient center for healing the physical ills of northern San Mateo County residents.

WITH THE COMING of the contractors also came the glowing warmth of Sister Hermine and a vast army of persons who felt the desire to assist Mary's Help Hospital. These were not new faces. Many had worked with the good sisters at the hospital in past years but Daly City, Colma, Broadmoor, Westlake and Pacifica had a very personal interest in the hospital, now, and the people who supported it suddenly came to be important to this area.

As the steel and concrete rose taller and taller, the community became more aware that Mary's Help Hospital was actively supported by an auxiliary, the Mary's Help Guild, and that this organization was doing much to provide the hospital the financial and spiritual support that it would need. This week, Caroline Backman, a member of the guild, has provided information to help us know the group more intimately and perhaps inspire some to become a part of its membership.

The Mary's Help Guild had a long record of service prior to the time that its membership fell away and for a while the organization was inactive. In 1950, several of the doctors' wives and the hospital's women doctors joined forces to reactivate the auxiliary under the name, Louise de Marillac Guild. Difficulty with pronounciation, spelling, etc., caused the change to Mary's Help Hospital Guild shortly thereafter.

While names and meetings places change, and even hospitals themselves move to new locations, the intent and purpose of the group has remained the same. The members are pledged to help the hospital in all ways possible—financially and physically—and to do their utmost to maintain and support the good reputation of the hospital.

A multi-phase program has been developed by the guild's executive boards over the years and the program now provides a nice balance of activities so that there is a place and a job for almost anyone interested in helping. While members emphasize that the goal of the guild is in no manner primarily social, the guild does sponsor fund raising activities that benefit the group and the hospital. The projects (most widely known is the elegant annual Fuchsia Ball) are evenly spaced throughout the year so that each season has an appropriate activity that will be of particular interest to the community.

During the past 12 years, the ladies have purchased isoletes, remodeled the cafeteria, donated funds for a recovery room and intensive care unit, purchased a special bed scale, placed drapes, chairs, tables and a variety of other items in a waiting room and in the halls, refurbished and painted the lobby, donated a new treatment room and given substantial amounts of money to the hospital for use in the facility.

According to Mrs. Backman, during the first 11 years, the guild donated $53,780 and in the past three years has given $50,000.

In addition to the purely fund-raising projects of the group, many other opportunities to serve are available to members who may elect to do such things as drive the Daughters of Charity to visit poor and needy families one day a week. The unit is comprised of persons willing and eager to support the hospital by giving unstintingly of their time.

DURING THE coming year, the guild will work under the direction of Mrs. Helen Mae Vollert, president, and her staff, Mrs. Arthur J. Sullivan, vice president; Mrs. Dario Baciocco, treasurer and Mrs. Clifton West, secretary. The move to the new hospital and the expansion of the volunteer program will be the guild's prime concerns, Mrs. Backman has indicated.

In conjunction with the expanded efforts in that area, plans for fund raising activities are, perforce, growing by leaps and bounds and no one is sure as yet where this year's board will lead the group. Undoubtedly, it will be to new successes for the community at large seems to be fairly bursting to show its interest and appreciation of the new proximity of hospital care.

Mrs. Backman, the director of volunteers, is the person to contact if you are interested in learning more about the guild. She may be reached each morning, Monday through Friday, by telephoning 583-0735.

AUGUST is just a hop, skip and a jump down the road and with the peak of the summer season also arrives Pacifica's Art and Fuchsia Festival with the entire community lending a hand to boost Pacifica and its official flowers.

Symphony Season Ticket Sale Is Ahead of '64-'65

To date, season ticket sales for the 1965-66 season of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra are well ahead of last year, according to Joseph A. Scafidi, orchestra manager.

Scafidi urged new season ticket subscribers to place their orders as soon as possible. He said preferred seat allocations will be made on a first-come basis.

The upcoming season, fifty-fourth in the orchestra's history and third under the baton of Maestro Josef Krips, will begin December 1.

Scheduled are 20 regular Wednesday - Thursday - Friday concerts at the War Memorial Opera House, featuring a roster of 40 celebrated guest artists.

They include Adele Addison, Claudio Arrau, John Browning, Hans Schmidt-Isserstedt, Isaac Stern and Igor Stravinsky.

A free copy of the upcoming season prospectus may be obtained by writing the San Francisco Symphony Association, War Memorial Opera House, San Francisco, or by calling UN 1-4008.

Regional tastes differ. For example, in New England corned beef is likely to be a gray color; to achieve this, processors omit the nitrates that along with sugar, salt and spices usually go into the brine that "corns" beef.

INSTALLATION MEETING

Fund Donation Told by League

An installation meeting of the Pan American League of San Mateo County gave Mrs. Emil Welz, outgoing president, the chance to announce a startling and happy finale to her two-year term.

Mrs. Welz read a letter from Mrs. Dorothy Loprich of Los Angeles, the sister of the late Mrs. George M. Kohler, organizing president and first president of the league.

A scholarship fund was named in her memory after her death in 1963 and scholarships have been presented for the past two years.

Mrs. Loprich expressed her appreciation for the club's endeavors and enclosed a check for $1,000 to carry on the tradition.

Taking over the gavel from Mrs. Welz was Mrs. Robert S. Craig, a member of the State Bar of California and a past president of Queen's Bench.

Mrs. Craig is also a member of the San Mateo County Retired Teachers Association, P.E.O., the Peninsula Orchid Society, and Eastern Star and is publicity chairman of the Burlingame Musical Club.

In addition to her club work, Mrs. Craig enjoys a number of hobbies, including golf, sewing, baking, mosaic work, reading and music.

This summer, she and her husband will travel to Iowa in a new trailer and, return-

COMMENT

A Father Has A Valid Point

A BURLINGAME father who recently lost his son through a brutal and senseless murder has raised the valid issue of the "over-protection" of criminals that has been troubling all thinking Californians.

He alludes to a speech delivered before the Commonwealth Club of California by University of California Criminology Professor Rex A. Collings Jr. who put the issue most succinctly when he declared:

"Our courts should quit having their 'weird and wonderful' solicitude for criminals and work toward a goal of creating a safe community to live in.

"The rights of criminals keep on increasing. The rest of us are speedily losing ours.

"Crime in California is increasing over three times as fast as the population increases. It cannot be questioned that we are losing the crime war."

WITH THE evidence before them, the jurists who have become perhaps too concerned with the rights of individuals accused of crime might raise their eyes from the law books for a more reasonable perspective of the spirit and purpose of the law.

They might give a little more attention to the rights of the public and the efforts of law enforcement officers to protect the public.

Technology on the March

TIME WAS WHEN business and education were separate worlds which rarely intruded upon each other and, indeed, each often gave signs of being scarcely aware the other existed.

Those days are gone forever. Advancing technology has altered industry to such an extent in the last few years that more and more employes must have highly technical training.

Forbes magazine quotes an executive of a large company as saying that five years ago one employe in 10 was an engineer, scientist or technician. Now it's one in every four, and the company believes that by 1970 it will be one of every two.

"We just cannot get these people," said the executive, "unless we offer them the best in educational facilities at every level." They demand research facilities, and they demand high quality elementary and secondary education for their children.

The Earth's 4 Corners

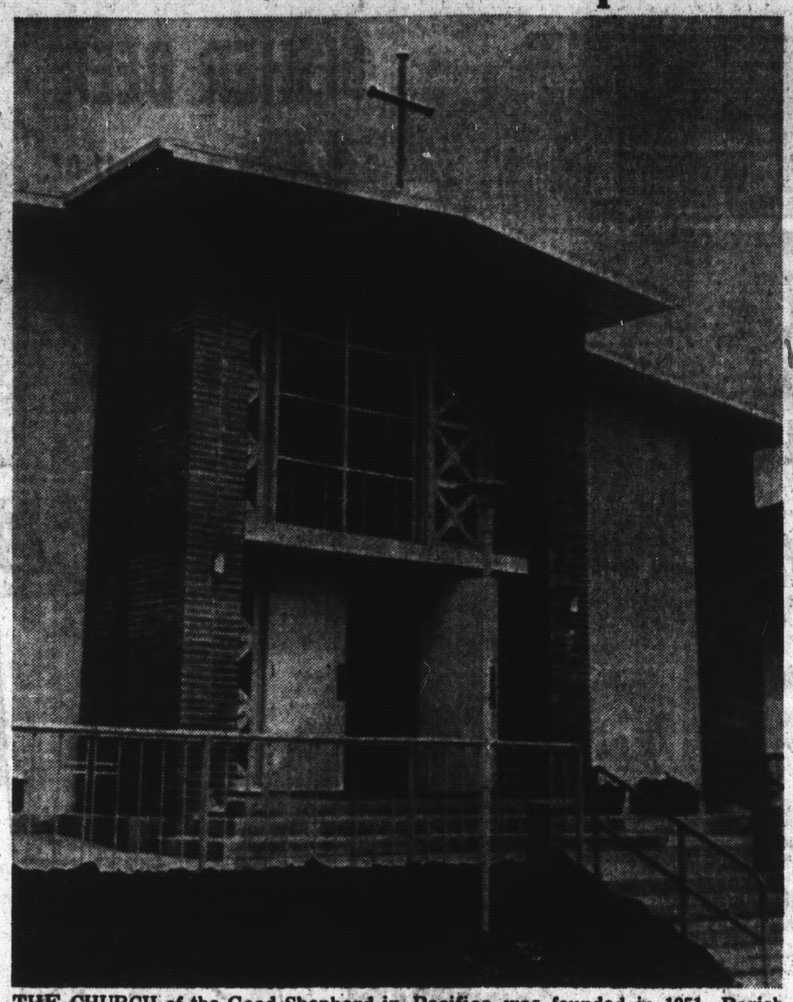
PEOPLE WHO write about "the four corners of the earth" aren't merely exercising poetic license. The earth actually does have four corners, says an American scientist.

Dr. R. B. Kershner, head of a research program at John Hopkins University, says radio measurements from satellites indicate this planet has a series of huge bumps and dents which give it the appearance of being endowed with four corners.

In fact, says Doctor Kershner, the earth has no specific shape. It reminds one of a battered old ball which someone tried to give four corners.

Thus the poets have been vindicated. And considering what the planet has been through in the last few centuries, it would be surprising if it didn't look like a batterered old ball.

Church of the Good Shepherd



THE CHURCH of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica was founded in 1951. Parishoners met in a building in Rockaway Beach before the present sanctuary at 221 San Diego Drive was erected in 1953. First pastor was the Rev. Denis J. Mullen. He served the parish for 13 years. The Rev. Peter A. Kelly, present pastor, joined Church of the Good Shepherd in 1964. The parish has about 1,400 families and serves an area from Fairmont to Vallemar. The church will break ground in the near future for an eight-room school. (Post-Times Photo)

Go Back! It's Wrong Way!

Don Miller

"GO BACK," screams the sign in glaring red and white. "You are going wrong way."

This is the sign you've been noticing around the state the past few weeks as California mounts a determined drive to discourage drivers who seem to have a penchant for motoring the wrong way on a freeway ramp, northbound on a southbound lane or eastbound on the westbound side of a divided highway.

When you think about it for a moment in this age of generally well-marked highways, it seems somewhat incredible that a motorist could wind up on the wrong side of a freeway.

But that he does — and altogether too often —is attested by accident statistics. Like, for example, last year our county racked up 26 wrong way driving accidents.

Of these, almost half were caused by drivers who had steered their way the wrong way up an off ramp and three-fourths of the drivers had been drinking.

IN THIS REGARD, we'll always remember an evening on Route 40 last spring, west of Sacramento. Ahead of us was a phalanx of tail lights.

To the left across the median was a steady stream of headlights. Then, quite suddenly, a set of red lights appeared among the headlights and it became apparent they were the tail lights of a car.

A car, we could see with near-disbelief, that was merrily zipping along eastward in the westbound lanes.

After about a mile of this almost fictional trauma, the driver realized his mistake and pulled to the shoulder, leaving in his wake what must have been some of the most shattered nerves ever bundled up behind a group of steering wheels.

That he didn't liquidate a half-dozen cars was an absolute stroke of fate. That rubbernecks on the other side of the median also didn't crack up watching this suspense sequence was another stroke.

THEN THERE was that time we were northbound on a non-freeway portion of divided 99, north of Merced. Up ahead we could see an old model truck, haltingly poking its radiator across the highway from the right.

In a scene that seemed so unreal that it was like watching a dream, the truck slowly turned south in the fast lane of the northbound side.

A grinding growl of brakes and a chorus of horns greeted this maneuver and the truck driver swerved off onto the shoulder, scant seconds before a late model sedan slid by, barely inches away.

In the Route 40 incident, the driver had become confused and somehow driven onto an off ramp. In the Route 99 case, the driver had not taken the time to assess the juxtaposition of the side road and the divided highway and had failed to cross over the median to make a proper turn south.

AS LONG AS there is the latitude for these kind of mistakes, drivers are going to make them. In the current program of posting warning signs, however, the state is going all out to reduce that latitude to Lilliputian dimensions.

After extensive testing, the highway engineers concluded that white letters on a blood-red background would demand the quickest attention from motorists bumbling the wrong way up a freeway ramp.

In addition, they found that the words, "Wrong Way," telegraphed the warning message the quickest. There's something convincingly emphatic about the declaration, "Wrong Way," particularly when it's dressed up in a splash of bright red.

If the new signs, accompanied by giant, white, directional arrows painted on the roadways, don't stem the rising tide of wrong-way accidents, the state highway people are going to be faced with an even more critical dilemma.

For although all traffic accidents are bad (and some downright cataclysmic), there is nothing quite as final as a head-on crash.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of highways and signs, we can't help but wonder why a good number of motorists didn't wind up buried in a tangle of wooden horses, earth-moving equipment and other construction miscellany on the Westlake-bound detour of Knowles Avenue before the detour was changed this week.

You all saw it — that big arrow pointing to the Junipero Serra Boulevard bypass of the interchange construction site, with a very large sign right on top of the arrow, declaring that this is where you should park for a nearby restaurant.

Since this had been a daily route for us, we kept a sort of running scoreboard of the number of autos that had missed the turn to the boulevard and it's suffice to say that if the Giants racked up just half the number of runs on our scorecard, they could start printing World Series programs right now.

Of course, once you made the right turn, you shortly thereafter began the daily game of outrunning the School Street Charge, barreling north on Junipero Serra, so that you can reach the left turn lane and slide down the hill into Weslake.

The School Street Charge was so-named because after the light turned green for Junipero Serra traffic at School Street, there was a great commotion about who could beat who to the next light and woe be to the slow-of-gas-pedal driver who dallied on crossing over from the Knowles Street detour.

Yes, Mr. Bradford, we agree your freeways in the right places are the answer to traffic strangulation but sometimes we wonder if all the grief while the curtain is going up is worth the main show.

Better Business

Fad Diets Often Are Deficient

Lorene Beasley

SENATOR HARRISON WILLIAMS of New Jersey, chairman of a Senate subcommittee set up to probe quackery said:

"It is almost impossible for law enforcement officers to keep abreast of the tide of mass mailings, the slippery language in television commercials and highly mobile pitchmen who infest the fringes of the medical profession and the honest business community."

The old-time, top hat medicine man who peddled snake oil, dried toads and wolf's milk was a piker compared to today's quack, described as a "modern and sophisticated huckster with a glass counter and carpeted offices, who approaches his victims through telephone, radio, and other modern media of advertising."

A CONGRESSIONAL committee, investigating claims by the manufacturers of weight-reducing preparations, found that the 20 per cent of the American population who are overweight spend more than $100-million yearly for worthless weight-reducing preparations.

More than 100 new reducing aids have appeared on the market within the last eighteen months.

The overweight person wants to believe the misleading and deceptive advertising of weight control medicine—"reduce six pounds in three days" — "ten pounds the first week or pay nothing."

Pills commonly used for weight reduction are (1) the no-specific filler such as methylcellulose, which gives a sensation of fullness, (2) appetite depressant, usually amphetamine, and (3) metabolic stimulator, notably thyroid gland preparations, which act by accelerating caloric expenditure.

MOST OF THE so-called weight reduction aids carry the advertising message that fat can be lost without dieting. However, they usually include a low-calorie diet to follow while taking the weight reduction aids.

One product, a caramel candy, has a synthetic sweetener and added cream. It actually has more calories than regular candy counter caramels and costs the exorbitant price of $3 a pound.

Obesity is not inherited. The family habit of overeating is inherited. If a glandular disorder is involved, and this constitutes a very small group, the fact still remains that a sufficient curtailment of food intake, proportionate to energy output, will result in weight reduction.

Contrary to the popular fallacy, it is not natural to put on weight with the years. The body needs less and less food after the mid-20's and unneeded food is converted into fat.

THE GREAT weakness of most fad diets is that they concentrate on one type of food and neglect the other nutrients, vitamins and minerals found in a well-balanced diet.

There are many diets of restricted menus, such as raw tomatoes and hard-boiled eggs —steaks and prunes — which are nutritionally inadequate as well as being calorie inappropriate.

A ten-day diet of such restricted menus might not cause harm but to lose weight over a longer period of time and to keep it off, the overweight person must realize that no reducing treatment can do more than establish a caloric deficit.

In this manner, the body will consume its own fat as a source of energy. If the person does not realize this, he will probably fail to diet properly or will resume his old habits after a temporary reduction. Fewer than 10 per cent of the people who go on a crash diet keep the fat off for two years!

A UNITED STATES Navy medical team, after working with a group of seven male patients whose average weight was more than 250 pounds, reported that weight reduction occurs during fasting at the expense of lean tissue, rather than fat. This weight loss is physiologically undesirable.

Some of the nation's top nutrition experts are concerned with the new low-carbohydrate reducing diet, popularly known as "The Drinking Man's Diet." Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard said that encouraging this diet for middle-aged Americans is "in a sense equivalent to mass murder."

The low-carbohydrate diet limits a person to 60 grams of carobohydrates a day. It reduces the carbohydrates, which leads to a proportional increase in the intake of protein and fat.

It is the fat increase that worries the doctor because of possible relation between fat, heart disease and blood coagulation disorders.

'Guts' Kept Them Flying

Barbara Bladen

STAN MARGULIES, the producer of "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines," the high style comedy currently at the Parkside Theatre that everyone is talking about, is not only the most enthusiastic moviemaker I've ever met, he's also one of the nicest and most intelligent.

Listening to him explain the complications of filming the movie made it that much more enjoyable to watch. It must have been a ball to make but the problems were considerable. The Twentieth Century-Fox spectacle is almost a documentary since it shows pioneer aircraft which have never before been shown on the screen.

"We built 25 planes, some in duplicate and triplicate since the fragile flying machines had unexpected crashes, and forced landings. Using blueprints, and old pictures and sketches, we assembled the odd assortment of craft using volunteer pilots.

"Among those intrepid flyers were Peter Hillwood, a British jet test pilot, and a 110-pound woman ferry pilot. Since the planes were made of bamboo, canvas, piano wire and wood, with no instrument panels, only a joy stick and a motor, it took more guts than experience to get them up and keep them up in the air. The pilots had to be as lightweight as jockeys."

MARGULIES went on to explain that "Aeronautics was no further advanced in 1965 than in 1910 since Hollywood couldn't modernize the planes and the chances of flying them today are as great as then."

Finding a location in England where telephone poles, modern highways and residential areas wouldn't be in the background was hard to find. Getting insurance from Lloyds of London was one of the biggest problems.

The idea for the film, which in time will be a classic for aviation buffs, came from Jack Davies who did research on early flying machines for the Royal Air Force. There was such a wealth of material that lent itself so naturally to comic situations that the report formed a natural script.

"The story is completely fictional but we received many letters from people who said they were sure their grandfather had flown in the air race from London to Paris across the English Channel. We wrote it around six countries and gave the sport an international flavor," Margulies said.

The Book Shelf

Alice and Her Wonderland

Samuel Chandler

"THE TIME has come," the Walrus said, "to talk of many things. Of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages—and kings—

And why the sea is boiling hot—
And whether pigs have wings."

So the old walrus, and the carpenter, and the March Hare, and the Cheshire Cat, and the mean old Queen and little Alice are a hundred years old. But their wonderland is as lively as ever.

"Alice in Wonderland" has been called a virtual volcano and hailed as a book that changed the whole cast of children's literature.

On the surface it may seem that its strange characters and fantastic situations have no relation to life—especially that of children. But let's see.

IN EVERY child's world (in an adult's too), there are times when common sense logic is opposed by logic that seems utterly absurd—with every argument against it leading to highest frustration.

Alice is so thorough a picture of such situations that the reader identifies with it. For example the White Queen says "The rule is, jam tomorrow and jam yesterday—but never jam today." Alice objects.

"It must come sometimes to jam today."

"No, it can't," says the Queen. "It's jam every other day. Today isn't every other day, you know." Poor Alice is vanquished. She shakes her head and retires. "I don't understand you. It's dreadfully confusing."

BUT THE READER is not confused. He knows exactly how Alice feels. He recalls how playmates, teachers and parents frustrate him with arguments that seem devoid of sense and yet are forced upon him with dogmation nearly as strong as the Queen's. Knowing this he aches for Alice as she tries to cope with the people and things she meets.

Alice leads us through a land where the worse foibles of society are pictured. There is the rabbit who is too busy to help a child out of a mess, and there is a place where everything is too big. Have you ever watched a three-year-old negotiate a stairway or climb from a chair?

There is the cowardliness of the cards, the hypocrisy of the duchess, the duplicity of the King. The March Hare, and the Mad Hatter are selfishness personified. The Cheshire Cat is a friend who can't be relied upon. Intimidation comes from the Queen; arrogance from the Caterpiller and the Mock Turtle.

There is nonsense which is forced upon the child, Alice, while she is deadly serious about the frustrations she knows but can't seem to communicate to those who can help her.

YET "ALICE IN WONDERLAND" was not designed to be an allegory that might lead to a change in society. It came from the mind of a mathematician who attempted to entertain three little girls during a boat trip. When he reached home, he resolved to write down the story that he had invented. He called it a fairy tale.

In it he sought to capture the wild imagination of children. He employed nonsense purely because he had learned that it entertains children. Much of the appeal of his book comes from the striking patterns of language and ideas that he wove into a rational child's irrational dream.

The life-like situations and caricatures and the brilliant irony are included to make the reader laugh, not to teach him. Yet as he reads it, through the nonsense, through the fantastic situations and characters, he can see an element of truth, as the scholarly, perceptive professor saw it in the lives and dreams of the children he knew.

How sort of incomplete must be the life of a child who has not met "Alice in Wonderland" by reading the book and seeing the movies that have been made of it.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Your paper reports that the Jefferson Elementary School District is considering reducing last year's tax rate from $3.36 to 2.92, a reduction of some 44 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

But when the district applies this rate of 2.92 to the new assessment roll, it will gain an extra $707,790 in taxes—an increase in taxes of over 30 per cent over the amount they received in taxes last year.

Your paper also reports that the Jefferson Union High School District is considering reducing last year's rate from 2.59 to 2.30, a reduction of some 29 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

But when it applies this rate of $2.30 to the new assessment roll, it will gain an extra $962,072 in taxes — an increase of over 30 per cent in taxes over the amount it received in taxes last year.

Daly City Councilmen have said they will not seek additional tax money this year so they, if they keep their word, can reduce last year's rate of $1.50 to $1, a reduction of some 50 cents.

This, when applied to the new assessment roll, will bring in the same amount of tax money received last year.

Many people are going to be hurt by the raise in the new assessment roll. Veterans, old residents of Daly City and pensioners will be sorely pressed to pay the new taxes brought on by the new assessment roll and any raise in the tax rate or taxes will bring additional problems for them.

Now is not the time for any of our taxing units to ask for more in taxes than the bare minimum, to give the sorely pressed taxpayers a chance to adjust themselves.

You can help out by publishing the facts that I have mentioned above and by publishing additional facts as they come to light.

Publish what the districts are asking in the way of taxes and emphasize how much more they are asking than last year and ask them to explain what the money is being used for.

WILLIAM C. KUNZ,
398 Higate Drive,
Daly City.

Sliced, fragrant peaches offer an invitation to delectable eating when they're baked with a flaky biscuit dough made tender with lard. Line a rectangular pan with dough and use strips of the same dough over the top of the peaches.

Cobbler a Pie In Deep Dish

What's a cobbler?

It's a pie, but it's made in a deep dish rather than the more shallow pastry pan to which almost everyone is more accustomed.

It's also prepared with biscuit dough rather than pastry for the crust. Good to eat? Of course, especially when fresh peaches dot the market and road stands!

After the lard has been cut in to make a fine, even crumb, milk is added to make the dough. Knead the dough gently, reminds Reba Staggs, home economist, about 30 seconds to give a fine texture to the biscuit crust.

Fresh Peach Cobbler

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
½ to 2-3 cup milk
½ teaspoon almond extract
4 cups (2 pounds) sliced fresh peaches
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt

Sift together flour, baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt and ½ cup sugar. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn on a slightly floured surface and knead gently for ½ minute. Roll dough into a 12x16-inch rectangle. Cut a 1-inch strip from two sides for the top crust leaving an 11x15-inch rectangle. Line a 12x8-inch baking pan with dough and crimp edges. Add almond extract to peaches and stir well. Mix together ¾ cup sugar, cornstarch and ½ teaspoon salt and add to peaches. Place peach mixture in lined pan, using remaining dough for pastry strips over peaches. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degree F.) 25 to 30 minutes. 8 to 10 servings.

Solid Salad Is Excellent For Lunch

A solid salad for these summer days is this Egg and Slaw Salad — excellent for weekday lunch.

Egg and Slaw Salad Toast
Fruit Turnovers Beverage

EGG AND SLAW SALAD

6 eggs
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
White pepper to taste
Paprika
¼ cup olive oil
2½ tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared yellow mustard
2 teaspoons sugar
2 cups firmly packed finely shredded green cabbage
Salad greens and, if desired, sliced tomato and cucumber

Hard-cook and shell eggs; cut in half length-wise. Remove yolks; mash fine with mayonnaise, salt and pepper; spoon back into white cavities. Flute yolk stuffing with the tines of a sharp kitchen fork; sprinkle with paprika.

In a bowl, with a fork beat together the oil, vinegar, mustard and sugar. Mix in cabbage adding salt and pepper to taste. Arrange stuffed eggs and slaw on salad greens; garnish with tomato and cucumber if used. Makes four servings — three stuffed-egg halves per portion.

Lamb Goes With Ham

Yes, you can team lamb with ham for kabobs, using equal amounts of each. Other go-with foods include cooked or canned sweet potatoes cut in pieces, pineapple chunks, green pepper squares and spiced crabapples or pears.

Strawberry Flavors an Old-Time Pie

Pure strawberry flavor distinguishes this old-time pie!

STRAWBERRY PIE

1 quart ripe but firm strawberries
Pastry for a 2-crust 9-inch pie
1 cup sugar
1-3 cup flour
Dash of salt
Butter

Rinse strawberries in cold water; hull; turn into a colander or large strainer to drain thoroughly. Roll out half the pastry and fit into a 9-inch pie plate; trim, but leave plenty of overhang. In a medium mixing bowl, stir together the sugar, flour and salt. Add strawberries and gently fold into mixture. Turn into pastry-lined pan; dot with two tablespoons butter. Roll out remaining pastry and cut vents in it; place over berries and fold edge under top crust; flute. Brush pastry with melted butter. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until pastry is lightly browned and juices begin to bubble up through vents — 35 to 40 minutes. Allow to stand on a wire rack until just warm and serve at once.

Rotisserie Is Dry Heat

It's not only called roasting when meat is cooked in a pan in the oven, but also when meat is cooked on a rotisserie in the oven or over coals or other heat. Both are dry heat methods and are thus properly referred to as roasting.

Grilling is a term which means broiling, another dry heat method reserved for the tender cuts of meat or for those meats made tender (by grinding, chopping, etc.) or meats already cooked like frankfurters, canned luncheon meats or fully cooked ham.

Alternate For a Touch

If you like to add different touches to your usual casserole of scalloped potatoes, cooked pork sausage patties and cooked frozen peas may be alternated with the sliced potatoes.

Bologna Roast

"Come on over for a bologna roast."

Invitations can be casual because this event involves only the easiest preparation. As top executive, mother needs only order the food after planning the menu.

What's good on the menu? Bologna roast, brushed with barbecue sauce, tastes wonderful on split buns.

Strawberries, peaches and canned figs to be dunked in sour cream, give a sophisticated dessert which they will appreciate.

Roasting Bologna Indoors

Select a whole bologna which usually weighs seven to nine pounds. Remove casing. Place on a rack in a shallow, open pan. Brush with barbecue sauce every 15 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until heated through, about 45 minutes.

If desired, a whole bologna may be roasted on the rotisserie unit of the out-of-doors grill. Make certain the casing is removed first. Insert the rotisserie rod through the center of the bologna. Brush with barbecue sauce. Roast over coals which have been allowed to burn down to a fine gray ash. This will give a moderate temperature (350 degrees F.). A seven to nine-pound bologna will be heated through in approximately 45 minutes. 30 servings.

CONCERTS PLANNED

Pacifica Arts Group Formed

The newly formed Pacifica Association of the Performing Arts will hold its second meeting at 8 tonight in the offices of the Laguna Salada School District in Vallemar.

On the agenda will be a discussion of an ambitious program of pops concerts planned by the association in October.

Plans for the concerts were formulated at the association's first meeting. The concerts will be presented at the Sanchez Adobe.

Tentatively scheduled for Sunday afternoons, the programs will include three band concerts and one organ concert. They will be open free to the public.

A proposal that Pacifica stage its own pops concerts was first advanced by the Pacifica Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Wally Fassler, president of the Jaycees, said the new association was founded to organize and present cultural programs for the benefit of the community.

Temporary officers of the association named were Mel Davis, president; Jean Donohue, vice president; Pat West, secretary, and Estelle Dahlquist, treasurer.

The association is seeking individual and group donations to carry on its work. It has been set up as a non-profit organization.

A subscription sponsorship may be purchased for $10. Checks should be made out to the Pacifica Association of the Performing Arts and may be sent to Rod Linhares of 15 Acacia Court, chairman of the group's finance committee.

Further information may be obtained by calling Vida Fassler at 359-4035.

Reading of Napkins Is New Game

YOU CAN tell a lot about your hostess by the way she sets the table.

Take a look at the napkins. If they're raspberry pink against a Nile green cloth, for example, your hostess has a sharp eye for color. She's apt to be the adventurous type who dresses with a real flair, and makes stimulating conversation.

Or, if she marks each guest's place with a different-colored napkin, your hostess probably likes diversity and treats people as individuals. She's likely to be thoughtful, considerate, and a good listener.

A napkin that's intriguingly folded may indicate that your hostess is long on imagination, has the genius of paying attention to details, and keeps up with the latest trends.

IF YOU'D like to express your personality through attractive and varied table settings, the National Cotton Council suggests you start with a color scheme.

While a colorful table setting won't revive a fallen souffle, it can cause table talk —and all of it complimentary. For your next luncheon or informal dinner party, stick to time-tested recipes but try new ways of dressing your table.

The current fashion trend in table settings is to bold, positive shades . . . and the newest cotton tablecloths and napkins sing out with color!

If you're giving a spring luncheon, for instance, why not choose one of the new cotton cloths splashed with exotic flowers in sun-drenched shades? Use solid-colored napkins to pick up one of the colors in the cloth.

ON THE SOLID side, bright red cloths are coming to the fore this season. For a spectacular effect, team a red cloth with royal blue napkins and plain white china. If, you're a milk-glass enthusiast, try a solid black cloth heavily fringed in white cotton. Add white napkins and a mound of shiny, red apples for a centerpiece.

In selecting colored cotton cloths and napkins, you can be as artistic as you like and still be practical. Look for cottons that are vat-dyed and you can wash them without a worry. Colors will stay bright and fresh after washing.

You can also add fun and flair to your table settings by giving napkins a novelty fold. If you're using place cards at a dinner party or luncheon, try the continental. Start with the napkin in a conventional fold, placing the four open points at the bottom. Turn top point down about one-third and fold side points under to meet the center back. Tuck the place card under the front flap.

NAPKINS folded into a candle shape will add a festive note to an informal buffet. For this one, open the napkin completely and fold into triangle with point at top. Fold bottom edge up one-inch, and turn napkin face down. Roll tightly, turning from left to right. Tuck in corner and stand napkin upright on table or buffet.

Sorority Plans Rummage Sale

Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will conduct a rummage sale Friday and Saturday in the Old Sea View Realty Office in the Linda Mar Shopping Center in Pacifica.

Proceeds will be turned over to charitable groups.

Rummage for the sale may be donated by calling Pat Gatton at 359-2274 or Thelma Loos at 359-1302.

Seven Hills Sets Membership Tea

The Seven Hills Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will hold a membership tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday at the home of Mrs. Esther La Pedis of 126 Santa Paula Drive, Daly City.

A skit will be performed by members of the chapter and refreshments will be served.

Persons who wish to obtain information on the B'nai B'rith program and its services are invited to attend.

An open meeting of the chapter will be held at 8:30 p.m. today at Toto's Restaurant at 1913 Junipero Serra Boulevard, Daly City.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Jules Schechner, MO 4-5634 or Mrs. Manny Hirschel, PL 6-3727.

Women's Moose Unit Sets Rite

Future Women of the Moose, Chapter 249, will receive its charter and officers of the chapter will be installed Sunday in the South San Francisco Rod and Gun Club on Oyster Point Road.

The officers are: Mrs. Mary Lee Fisher, senior regent; Mrs. Doris McLaughlin, junior regent; Mrs. Helen Bernasconi, graduate regent; Mrs. Dorothy Bording, chaplain; Mrs. Emily Spellman, guide; Mrs. Pat Irvine, assistant guide; Mrs. Rose Leishner, treasurer; Mrs. Pat Perkins, recorder; Mrs. Jamie Thomas, argus and Mrs. Maryann Gregory, sentinel.

Installing officers will be Mrs. Ralph Boyd, former deputy grand regent for the State of California Women of the Moose.

Senior Citizens Gain 12 Members

Twelve new members joined the rapidly growing new Daly City Senior Citizens Club last week.

At its meeting in the Lincoln Park Clubhouse, the club heard a talk on legislation affecting senior citizens by Julius Castelan, a member of the club.

The group meets at 11 a.m. each Wednesday in the clubhouse.

Salvation Army Joins Crusade

The Salvation Army in San Mateo County will be one of five new agencies admitted to United Bay Area Crusade to share in funds of the $15,155,885 campaign, which begins September 27.

Also included is Big Brothers, Inc. which now operates in San Mateo County.

President Roger D. Lapham Jr., said all five have been given the stamp of approval by citizen-study committees as meeting qualifications for membership in the Crusade and for participation in campaign funds.

This includes agreement by the new agencies to refrain from conducting public fund-raising campaigns which are considered competitive with the annual United Crusade drive, Lapham said.

Woodman Will Seek Re-election

It is not true, County Assessor Ralph E. Woodman has reported, that he has decided not to run for re-election next year.

"As of this moment," he said, "I expect that I will run."

He will not make a final decision, he added, until the first of the year.

He explained that he is scheduled to enter the hospital for two operations this fall and will base his decision on the state of his health after that.

Woodman has in the past few weeks been subjected to a storm of criticism from property owners because of his county-wide reappraisal program.

New assessments were assigned to about 60 per cent of the parcels in the county to bring them up to a ratio of 25 per cent of market value.

As a result, the assessed valuations of some properties were increased as much as 1,000 per cent.

A few disgruntled residents have not been content just to protest the new assessments but have started or joined movements to recall Woodman from office.

The assessor said he has heard that rumors are circulating that he plans to retire with the completion of his present term of office and added that he thinks he knows who started the rumors. He had no other comment on the subject, however.

Candidates for county elective offices next year will have until March to declare their intentions.

N. County Roundup

MRS. IRENE DUNAWAY of 20 Forest Grove Drive, Daly City, was honored earlier this month with the publication of an article she had submitted to the internationally-respected Christian Science Monitor.

The article told of memories of childhood revived when she was crossing her native Alberta, Canada, with a house trailer in 1963. After the trip, Mrs. Dunaway enrolled in a creative writing course at the College of San Mateo.

ERNEST J. DAY JR. of 54 Capay Circle, South San Francisco, has completed a course in real estate at the College of San Mateo. The course involved some 300 hours of classwork.

Enrollment in the course totaled 2,193 persons in the 1964-65 school year. Included were 295 persons working toward real estate certificates.

THE DALY CITY Rotary Club will be host to Rotary District Governor George Starbird at its noon luncheon meeting Wednesday, August 25. Club officers will discuss the group's plans and program with Starbird for the coming year.

DR. RODNEY CLARK, the new chairman of the board of trustees of the Laguna Salada School District, has been promoted to a full professorship on the faculty of San Francisco State College.

LAWRENCE FREIBERG and Gerald Colvin, members of the social action committee of Temple Judea, have been appointed the temple's delegates to the new Daly City citizen's group, Community Interaction Through You (C.I.T.Y.). Freiberg has been named chairman of the group's human relations committee.

NEWEST member of the Lake Merced Optimist Club is Vince Rodrigues, field representative for the Social Security Administration in San Francisco. He transferred his membership to Lake Merced from Los Angeles.

Laguna Says Buses to Go On Running

The Laguna Salada School District will continue to transport Fairway Park students to Vallemar School until protective fencing is erected along a walkway through the Vallemar cut on the Coast Highway, trustees have assured parents.

Parents had expressed concern that the bus service would be discontinued.

Pacifica officials have informed the district that funds for the fencing have not been budgeted and that a fence is not planned.

Parents have presented petitions to both the board and the Pacifica Safety Commission, calling for a safe walkway along the highway to Vallemar School.

FOUNTAINS BROKEN

Officials of Thomas Edison School at 1255 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, reported to police over the weeked that someone had broken three water fountains.

Dancing 'Creatively'

CREATIVE DANCE classes are one of the more popular activities being sponsored this summer by the Daly City Recreation Department, according to department officials. Here, Mrs. Sandra Dungan, dance instructor, guides a group of students through a routine in the Westmoor Park Clubhouse. The girls, left to right, are Joyce O'Malley, Ingrid Sousjord, Lisa O'Malley and Joan O'Malley. The three O'Malley girls are sisters. (Post-Times Photo)

The "ship" was fashioned from scrap material and other odds 'n ends by the Daly City Recreation Department. The ship "sails" each day during regular park hours. (Post-Times Photo)

Unit Forms To Support Area Police

A new citizen's group has been formed in the county to support local police forces.

The group is called the San Mateo County Committee to Support Your Local Police. It plans to hand out bumper and window stickers carrying this message.

A statement from the committee last week said: "A subtle, but more extensive effort to harass and discredit local police forces and their individual members is going on . . . In addition to their regular crime work load, the police are faced with problems in the community created by probable Communist agitators."

The committee recently adopted four principles, one of which condemns the establishment of police review boards.

In a meeting at the County Administration Building, the organization chastised the review boards as "plotting schemes to harass the police, discredit individual officers and discourage all those who wish to do their duty properly."

The committee's statement of principles asked "to oppose the continuance or establishment of police review boards."

Other resolutions adopted were:

Determine the facts about criticism of local law enforcement agencies. Then if the criticism is found to be unjustified, set the record straight.

Distribute as widely as possible "Support Your Local Police" bumper and window stickers.

Insist that city, county and state legislatures put teeth in enforceable laws so that the police have the necessary tools with which to work in their efforts to maintain law and order.

"Crime rates continue to rise far out of proportion to population increase," said a spokesman for the group.

"The support of local law enforcement agencies by all good citizens everywhere is going to become especially important now that many types of riots and demonstrations, some of which have been Communist inspired, are getting to be a regular part of the American scene," the spokesman added.

Chairman of the group is Carlo Flores of Redwood City. The officers elected were:

Ernest Jones, vice chairman, Menlo Park and Mrs. Q. M. Cohenour, secretary-treasurer, Redwood City.

Four Theater Bandits Pose As Customers

Four bandits posing as theater customers held up the Mission Drive-In Theater at 500 Guttenberg Street in Daly City Saturday night and escaped with about $500 in cash.

Two clerks on duty, Eugene McCarthy, 37, of 150 East Vista Avenue, Daly City, and Phillip V. Puga of San Francisco told Patrolman Robert Bowers that the four drove up in a car about 10 p.m.

Two of the bandits, after starting to buy a ticket, jumped out of the car. After brandishing small pistols, they ordered the clerks to stand aside while they entered the theater office.

The robbers scooped up currency from a cash box, jumped back into the car, which sped away on Guttenberg.

CYMBAL STOLEN

Thieves stole a stand-up cymbal from Westmoor High School, school officials reported to Daly City police last week.

False Alarms Plague Firemen

Three rapid-fire false box alarms had the South San Francisco fire department rushing around town in the small hours of the morning Saturday.

It was not funny, firemen said. The alarms denuded the three fire stations of equipment and created a lot of emergency traffic.

First false alarm came in at 3:59 a.m. from San Mateo Avenue at the Cape Esperance housing project.

The second was at 4:03 a.m. from Linden and Miller and the third at 4:04 a.m. from Linden and Aspen.

Assistant Chief Al Brauns said teen-agers were suspected. He said the culprits could have used a car to drive from one alarm box to another.

There's a possibility the firemen, on their way to the first alarm, passed the car as it sped driven to each box if they had stepped on it.

on to the second box.

Five pieces of equipment rolled — three on the first alarm and one each on the other two.

This left one piece of equipment "covering," and at one stage it was en route between calls. However, firemen have three-way radio communication.

Besides the normal dangers of responding to an alarm, firemen point out that three false alarms in a few minutes strips the stations of equipment that might be needed to answer a genuine alarm.

It will be carried out in four phases: a survey of the growth of population in the church's area; a study of the church program in terms of congregation and community needs; selection of an architect and development of a master plan and a recommendation on what part of the master plan the congregation should undertake.

Milk and Honey Lemony Dessert

This Lemon Honey Cake is definitely a milk and honey dessert to deserve your immediate attention; future and enduring admiration. It all begins with a lemon cake mix made even more moist and tender by the addition of honey.

Give it a garnish of honey-sweetened whipped cream or frost it with plain whipped cream or a butter frosting for that extra touch of goodness.

1 package lemon cake mix
1 package (3 ounces) lemon gelatin
¾ cup milk
¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup California honey
4 eggs

In a large mixing bowl blend together cake mix and gelatin. Combine milk, oil and honey; stir into mix. Add eggs and beat five minutes with rotary beater or three minutes at medium speed with an electric.

Pour batter into greased 10-inch tube pan (a spring-form pan is ideal). Bake in a medium, 350-degree, oven about one hour or until done.

NOTE: The texture of this cake is very light and the oven should not be opened during the baking time.

If a tube pan is not available bake cake in a 9 by 13 by 2-inch pan for approximately 50 minutes.

Rosy Meat Loaf Can Serve Family

When you're having a large family and friend group over for a porch or picnic supper, do have a tempting meat loaf!

Meat loaf goes easily into sandwiches for young folks. It can be teamed with potato salad for the plus twenty group.

Rosy in color, Family Reunion Meat Loaf is so named because it's a large quantity recipe. Six ingredients make the two loaves a generous size. Observe the oven temperature for best results.

Family Reunion Ham Loaf

3 pounds ground smoked ham
3 pounds ground fresh pork
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 can (14½ ounces) evaporated milk
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 cup cracker crumbs
Epicurean Sauce

Combine eggs, milk, tomato soup and cracker crumbs. Add to ground meat and mix thoroughly. Pack into two 9 x 5-inch loaf pans. Bake in a slow oven (325 degree F.) 2 hours. Serve with Epicurean Sauce. 20 servings.

Epicurean Sauce

1 pint whipping cream
¾ cup mayonnaise
½ cup prepared horseradish
2 teaspoons salt
4 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ cup minced parsley

Whip cream until stiff. Fold in other ingredients until well blended. Chill. Yield: Approximately 6 cups.

Quick Lunch With Dogs

For a quick lunch or supper, slit six frankfurters almost through and six frankfurter buns. Place buns, cut side up, topped with slit frankfurters, in a 12 by 9-inch baking pan. Combine one can (15 ounces) chili with ¼-cup chopped onion and spoon over the frankfurters. Sprinkle with one-third cup grated cheddar cheese. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) 10 to 12 minutes. Four to six servings.

Light Note For Meals In Summer

A delicate meat such as veal gives a light motif to Summer meals. It's a welcome change from barbecue cookery.

There's an old world accent in Veal Noodle Special since the flavor of the meat is developed by slow cooking. In addition to this, the tender veal cubes are served with noodles and almonds.

Brown the meat first. One cup of water is then added. Cover the utensil tightly and cook slowly.

VEAL NOODLE SPECIAL

2 pounds boneless veal shoulder, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 garlic clove
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup water
4 ounces medium noodles
½ cup blanched slivered almonds, toasted
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Brown veal and garlic clove in lard or drippings. Discard garlic. Pour off drippings. Season meat with salt and pepper. Add 1 cup water, cover tightly and cook slowly until done, 30 to 40 minutes. Pour off and measure cooking liquid, adding enough water to make 1 cup. Return liquid to meat. Add flour to ½ cup water, mixing well. Add to meat and cooking liquid. Bring to a boil and cook, stirring occasionally, until thickened. Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain. Brown almonds in butter or margarine and add to noodles. Arrange in a ring on heated platter. Fill center with cooked veal pieces and pour thickened cooking liquid over meat and noodles. Six servings.

Kidneys a Delicacy for The Gourmet

Now and then, do you find time and interest in trying something completely different? It's a spirit-lifting adventure!

Certain to delight anyone with a genuine interest in good food are lamb kidneys. Sometimes these are left attached to the chops, says meat authority, Reba Staggs, but they are also sold by themselves.

Lamb kidneys are quite small in size so they are usually cut in half, lengthwise, for serving rather than cut in pieces like the larger beef kidneys. These are a real taste delight with bacon, mushrooms and sour cream.

LAMB KIDNEYS SUPREME

1 pound lamb kidneys
4 slices bacon
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 beef bouillon cube
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 cup dairy sour cream

Remove fat and membrane from kidneys. Cut, lengthwise, in half. Cook bacon until crisp. Remove bacon and break into pieces. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge kidneys in seasoned flour. Brown slowly in bacon drippings. Pour off drippings. Add mushrooms, mushroom liquid and bouillon cube. Cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes. Mix together mustard and sour cream and add to kidneys, stirring until just heated through. Serve on a heated platter and sprinkle with bacon pieces. Four servings.

New Chops Age Dimensions

Braised pork chops take on new dimension when they are served with rice to which some grated orange rind has been added. If you want to dress up the rice even more, some raisins, sugar and cinnamon may also be added to it.

SAILBOAT SOUP

Sailboat Soup! Spread 2 round crackers with peanut butter; diagonally cut 1 saltine into 2 triangles to stand in peanut butter to make a "sail." Float on soup.

Blueberry Cake Recipe A Perennial

Here's the blueberry cake we bake every year—if you haven't tried it, you may want to do so.

Braised Shoulder Lamb Chops
With Carrots and Celery
Potatoes Salad Bowl
Annual Blueberry Cake

ANNUAL BLUEBERRY CAKE

1 tablespoon plus ¼-cup butter
½ cup finely packed light brown sugar
2 cups blueberries
1¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup granulated sugar
1 large egg
½ teaspoon vanilla
Grated rind (about 1 tablespoon) of a lemon
1-3 cup milk

n a cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches), melt the 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle the brown sugar into the pan in an even layer; spoon blueberries over brown sugar.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream the ¼-cup butter with the granulated sugar beat in egg thoroughly with vanilla and lemon rind. Gently beat in sifted flour mixture in 3 additions, alternately with milk; beat only until smooth. Pour batter over berries. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 40 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center of batter comes out clean.

Cut in squares in pan and serve warm with whipped cream.

Ranchburgers Appeal to All

The good folk of Hamburg, Germany, are credited for originating the ground meat patty that we have made our own revered hamburger. Nevertheless, today it is All-American, unquestionably the most popular food item from coast to coast. It's even been responsible for the development and growth of an entire industry—drive-in restaurants!

Fortunely, hamburgers are so quick and easy to prepare that we can have them often at home, too, with a wide array of toppings and trimmings.

Ranchburgers are a spirited, simple variation on the hamburger theme that incorporate the trimmings and topping with specially tasty results. Instead of having to shape and grill the meat, you let it simmer in zesty barbecue sauce. The delightful seasonings of tomato-rich barbecue sauce permeate every succulent morsel of beef. Spoon the savory mixture over toasted bun halves and top with mellow cheese slices that melt in pleasing, smooth contrast. — Mmmm! Can't you just smell the aroma and savor all those good flavors! Serve these tempters to the family soon—and be prepared for many compliments.

RANCHBURGERS

1 lb. ground beef
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup Barbecue Sauce
Pasteurized Process Cheese Spread, sliced
8 round buns, split, toasted

Brown meat. Add green pepper, celery, onion and salt; mix well. Stir in barbecue sauce; 15 minutes. Spoon hot meat mixture on bun halves; top with cheese slices. Serve immediately.

Recipe for An Exciting Cheese Pie

How long has it been since you've enjoyed Butterscotch Cheese Pie? Why wait longer? Here's the recipe.

Manhattan Clam Chowder
Salad Bowl Pilot Crackers
Butterscotch Cheese Pie

BUTTERSCOTCH CHEESE PIE

1 ⅓ cups graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup butter, soft
¾ cup sugar
1 package (6 ounces) butterscotch-flavor pieces (1 cup)
8 ounces cream cheese, soft
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg
2 tablespoons flour
⅔ cup milk
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ cup orange juice
3 tablespoons corn syrup
2 tablespoons water

In a mixing bowl, blend together the crumbs, butter and ¼ cup of the sugar; press on bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 8 minutes. Remove from oven. Sprinkle ½ of the package (½ cup) of the butterscotch pieces over the crust; let stand until melted; spread evenly over bottom and sides of crust.

In a mixing bowl beat together the cream cheese and butter to blend; beat in the remaining ½ cup sugar and the egg, then the flour. Thoroughly stir in the milk, orange rind and orange juice. Turn into prepared crust. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 minutes. Chill. Before serving, turn the remaining ¼ cup butterscotch pieces and the corn syrup into the top of a double boiler. Place over hot (not boiling) water; vigorously stir in the water; let stand 5 minutes. Serve warm over chilled pie.

Congratulations!

CARL L. HAAS, right, owner of a Buick agency in his own name in Daly City, is congratulated by Elwood Hansen, president of Bay View Federal Savings and Loan Association, after Haas' appointment to the advisory board of the association. The appointment is for three years.

'Ballad of Sad Cafe' to Be Offered at S.F. State

The play, "The Ballad of the Sad Cafe," from Carson McCullers' novella, adapted to the stage by Edward Albee, will be introduced to the West Coast in its three-day premiere at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow through Saturday at San Francisco State College.

Performances will be in the Main Theatre of the Creative Arts building at 1600 Holloway Avenue, San Francisco.

Directed by Jack Cook, associate professor of drama, the play evokes a moody life of a small southern town. With an all-student cast, a strange triangle of love and hate is played before the village population.

Student actor, Robert Lawson, 23, from El Paso, Tex., performs double chores as the narrator and as brother to the leading male actor.

The conflict centers around a massive woman storekeeper (played by Becky Jenkins, 28, of San Francisco); her turned-away husband (acted by Ken Wipff, 20, from Palo Alto), and a malevolent dwarf (Geno Havens, 21, of San Francisco). Their unusual relationship erupts into passionate violence on stage.

The production is the only dramatic offering at S. F. State during its summer session.

The interior-exterior set was designed by James Ellingwood, a graduate student, and costumes were arranged by student Irene Pieper.

Reservations may be made by calling the Creative Arts box office, JU 5-7174, after noon.

Center Study Is Scheduled

The San Mateo County Cultural Center Study Committee came into being and an annual ticket admission at the various county recreational and park facilities was approved by action of the county Parks and Recreation Commission last week.

The cultural study commission formation grew out of the question of what to do with the Coyote Point land now occupied by the county jail honor camp when it is closed.

Nine members and four ex-officio members will comprise the committee, the latter including Commission Chairman Clark Congdon, Department Director Ralph Shaw, an architect from the county Building and Construction Department and a professional cultural center consultant.

Studies will be centered on need and location of the center, activities it should encompass and what physical facilities will be necessary.

'Who Needs Automation' New Finocchio's Hit

Who needs automation? That's the question posed in the new FINOCCHIO summer show in San Francisco. So, quite appropriately, that's the rather unusual title of the production—"Who Needs Automation?" As produced by WILLIAM CHRISTOPHER GRAHAM, this is an all-the-way night club show novelty of the current summer season. Emcee HARVEY LEE contributes much to making this attraction a classic among fast-moving shows. Comedian ELTON PARIS wins new laurels in the wildest dance of his career, a performance that brings roars of laughter. BOBBIE D'CASTRO, a newcomer in the cast, scored sensationally by impersonating a gorilla. (That's right, a gorilla). He soon emerges from that unique disguise to impersonate a glamorous dancing gal only to spring another surprise by climaxing his act as a topless he-man of muscles. FRANCES BLAIR presses both of these funnymen for laughs in his comedy striptease of the days of the Gay 90s. Singing stars abound—LaVERNE CUMMINGS, AL ST. CLAIRE and CARY DAVIS, all in fine vocal form and beautiful gowns. Dancers JUAN JOSE, CANDIDA and REGGIE DAHL add much color to the show with spectacular fluorescent numbers. Comics LUCIAN, JACKIE PHILLIPS and J. J. VAN DYKE do their share to keep the crowds laughing.

As you well know, when purchasing a bucket of chicken at FOSTER'S ORIGINAL PANCAKE and CHICKEN HOUSE, you receive one apple pie FREE . . . Ever hear of a combination plate that included Chinese, Mexican, Italian and American food? Well, stop in the new GOURMET TABLE any evening from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. and you can help yourself to "All you can eat" for $1.50 . . . SIGHT OF ANY WEEK: While cruising up Highway 50 to BARNEY'S CASINO, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), last weekend, who should pass me but NATHAN COHN, one of San Francisco's leading attorney's, who was driving a sharp-looking Lincoln Convertible — with top down and shirtless, which exposed a healthy sun tan. The irony part of this tale is that it was raining—and I mean pouring! . . . LEW LEHR'S STEAKERY in the Marina, has an unusual feature: The ever-changing decor, created by the ever-changing display of paintings. Lew's patrons buy the paintings almost as fast as he can hang 'em. . . Show stopper at the GALAXIE: TOPLESS TERI, with her sensational Swim dancing and crowd applauding gyrations. . . . GOMANS' GAY 90'S has come up with another smash hit, starring LEONARD BARR, top standup comedian and eccentric dancer, with CHERI LAYNE, THE CORALETTES and BEE, RAY, and RAY K. GOMAN. Don't miss this show!

IS IT POSSIBLE FOR AN ENTERTAINER to do too much business? Most people would answer no to that question. But it is possible in the case of DR. MICHAEL DEAN, world famous hypnotist, who is currently playing in the Aspen Grove Theater of SAHARA-TAHOE on Lake Tahoe's South Shore. The highest paid hypnotist in show business will continue his "standing room only" early morning (4 a.m.) schedule through August 3. Dr. Dean joins SUE CARSON starring in "Benvenuta Roma" revue with the PAUL STEFFEN DANCERS, HELENE and HOWARD from Paris, THE KINGS IV, and FREDDIE BELL and ROBERTA LINN on the dusk 'til dawn entertainment showbill . . . . According to advance raves JOHNNY ALADDIN AND TAKI is one of show biz' most outstanding acts. As of this writing, I haven't caught this show bill which is appearing at the Redwood City TIN PAN ALLEY. However, tomorrow night is the night—and a complete rundown next Friday.

Bertolucci's, South San Francisco Italian restaurant, has enjoyed a successful business since 1928. In eatin' words, that's a lot of Mom's home made raviolis and Cannelloni. Open seven days a week; ample room for your banquets and special parties.

Joe's of Westlake has two dining rooms (which helps to eliminate any table wait), counter service, banquet facilities, and a cozy fireplace cocktail lounge, with pianobar entertainment.

Curry gourmets: "The Taj" of India" are the magic words.

Ed Sullivan Host to Stars

The Hyatt House in Burlingame has resembled a movie set, what with many name stars of Hollywood appearing at the Hyatt Music Theater—and more are skying in to see the various shows. General Manager Ed Sullivan has been on the double tending to the food, beverage and room accommodations.

Greyhound Buses Galore to Tahoe South Shore

There are now almost as many Greyhound Buses running to Lake Tahoe (South Shore) casinos as there are passenger cars. Take your best "shot": Harrah's, Barney's, Sahara and Harvey's. Refunds are all about the same, with departure times to fit your schedule from morning till late night. Why knock yourself out driving? Take a bus and relax, enjoy a snooze and be ready for "table action" (food and otherwise) upon arrival at Lake Tahoe!

Fashion shows at the Villa Chartier and Lanai attract male viewers as well as ladies fair. With Christmas just a few flips of the calendar away, now is the time to purchase those special gifts.

When it calls for atmosphere and pleasant surroundings to help clinch a big business deal, take your client to the Red Lion Inn for luncheon or dinner. The setting is perfect!

You can't beat the old country-style, seven course Italian dinner served at Nick Finocchio's North Beach New Tivoli restaurant. Starts at just $2.

Good news for sea food and Italian dinner fanciers: Vince Licata and his outstanding restaurant staff are again bringing Fisherman's Wharf to the Peninsula, after taking a short vacation.

Golden's Mardi Gras Room Echoes Applause

BARRY ASHTON'S new musical, "FOLIES DE PARIS," entertains audiences nightly in the big Mardi Gras Room at the GOLDEN in Reno. Ashton has made full use of the Golden's specially built stage for the first showing in America of "Folies de Paris." Because the Golden has so many gimmicks built into the special stage, it is possible to create almost any kind of an effect. Featured is a large cast of talented performers, including the lovely ASHTON GIRLS who have made the Golden's shows famous. Stars of the show are French singers DANIELLE CLARY and PIERRE ROBYN . . . The busboys at CLIFF CHALET took part in Operation Match (computers find you half-dozen dates with matching interests, hobbies, etc.). Under "Favorite Way To Spend An Evening With A girl" on the questionnaire they answered "Slot Car Racing." Yep, the computer came up with "So Solly."

ERNEST LUISETTI, new co-owner of the "Frenchy" LA TOURAINE restaurant in Burlingame, and formerly of Ernie's, has brought a lot of San Francisco restaurant atmosphere and knowledge with him. MARIE and MAURICE BROSSIER, also co-owners of this popular spot, blend their culinary experience to produce a delectable French menu. Cocktails are now being served, along with the wines of your choice . . . GEORGE MARDIKIAN, host-owner of OMAR KHAYYAM'S (also a chef—and a good one!), has a recipe for success: "Have faith in yourself, faith in God, faith in your country, and back it up with hard work." . . . The THUNDERBOLT HOTEL'S Gourmet Rib Room offers many menu suggestions, including sea food. The NOB HILL TRIO, one of the greatest in the area, entertain and play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., except Sunday . . . Revue at the MOULIN ROUGE has become a "must on Broadway. It's best to get there early as you'll want to be ringside to see this exciting show.

Reading where science is matching marriage partners by studying their compatibility, Enrico Romano, Pacifica restaurateur, wonders what would a husband and wife, who agreed on everything, find to talk about 40 years, or so?

If you're planning Sunday dinner at Pancho's Mexican Cafe, come early. Even with the large crowds waiting to place their orders, service is fast and efficient.

Sal Carson and his orchestra play nightly at Hoberg's, one of Lake County's famous vacation resorts.

The King's Table was a Peninsula first to serve the "All you can eat" for $1 and $1.50, lunch and dinner. Choose from an array of over 40 items.

Aidee And Raul Big Musical Hits

You're in for an evening of exceptional entertainment at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa when Raul Roquet of the Aidee and Raul team blows his educated trumpet. This "Mexican Harry James" plays everything in the musical book to such note perfection that each performance brings a standing ovation. Aidee, Raul's talented wife, lends a drum beat background, which makes this duo one of the best in the field of entertainment.

When John Graziano of the Brentwood Lodge takes a vacation in the country, he also scouts logs for his huge fireplace cocktail lounge. Understand he cuts them to size. John is "fire chief" in the lounge during the cold winter months.

Little known facet of the operation at Phil Lehr's Steakery is his catering service for outside banquets and parties.

Checking 'Moonlight' Hours

SID POSNER, manager of The Fashion, and his assistant, Dorian Ohlman, clad in a nightgown, hold up two alarm clocks to emphasize the hours during which the third annual Moonlight Sale will be conducted by merchants in the Westlake Shopping Center. The sale will begin at 6:30 p.m. and end at 10:30 Thursday, August 5. Many merchants and salesclerks will be in pajamas and nightgowns. Last year, the sale attracted a huge outpouring of customers, merchants reported.

Army Incentive Awards Given 2 D.C. Residents

Dorothy Fairchild and Howard J. Garden of Daly City have been honored under the Army's Incentive Awards program at Oakland Army Base.

Miss Fairchild, 280 Lake Merced Boulevard, a secretary in the Facilities Division, received a cash suggestion award of $190.

Her suggestion was to make copies of portions of large blueprints for reference use instead of using the entire print.

Garden, 228 Palisades Drive, administrator of the Digital Computer System, Western area, Military Traffic Management and Terminal Service (MTMTS) at Fort Mason in San Francisco, has been awarded an outstanding performance rating.

He administers a computer center that gathers automatic data processing.

Through a world-wide network, he integrates cargo handling operations of MTMTS with depots in the United States and with overseas activities of the Department of the Army.

In receiving the outstanding performance citation, Garden earned an award accorded to less than three per cent of all Federal Government employes.

Business And Finance

Top Earnings Reported by Savings Firm

American Savings and Loan Association of California has reported the highest point in the company's 80-year history in savings, loans and earnings, according to Charles Wellman, president of the Northern California association.

Assets, which broke the billion dollar mark in 1964, continued to climb another 18 per cent from June 30, 1964 to June 30, 1965, to an all-time record of $1,201,491,500, he said.

American Savings reported a loan volume of more than $148 million for the six-month period from January 1 to June 30, 1965, to bring the total loan portfolio to the paramount peak in its history at $1,055,555,787.

Savings rose $112,742,495 for the year-to-date period (as of June 30, 1965) over the previous year's comparable period. Total savings hit a new high of $935,541,434, which represents nearly 300,000 savings accounts, Wellman said.

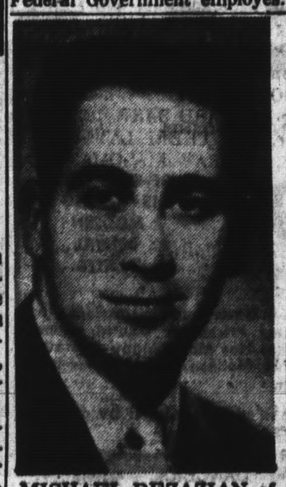
D.C. Man Promoted

James M. McCraney, 41, of 43 Park Manor Drive, Daly City, has been promoted to communications engineer in the utility division of the California Public Utilities Commission.

He has been a supervising engineer and assistant head of the communications branch.

McCraney, a native of Tuolumne County, was graduated by the University of California in 1947 as an electrical engineer after service in the Army Signal Corps.

He was employed as a junior engineer by the commission shortly after graduation and has since been in the utility division, except for two years as a radar maintenance officer in the Air Force during the Korean War, from 1951 to 1953.



MICHAEL BEZAZIAN of 274 Verano Drive, Daly City, has been named a member of the President's Club of the Prudential Insurance Company for selling and servicing $1-million worth of insurance. He is a native of San Francisco and is a graduate of the University of California.

Lyons Opens 13th Outlet

Lyons Restaurants opened a new restaurant, coffee shop and cocktail lounge in Fresno last week, the thirteenth LJW owned and operated by the company in Northern California.

A division of the 112-year-old San Francisco firm of Lyons-Magnus, Inc., Lyons Restaurants also operates restaurants in Daly City, San Francisco, Sacramento, San Jose, San Bruno, and Hillsdale in San Mateo.

Others are under construction in Stockton and Millbrae.

$2 Dividend Is Set by B of A

A regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association capital stock has been declared by the bank's board of directors.

The dividend, which is at the annual rate of $2 per share, is payable August 31 to shareholders of record August 6.

Saving in Power Cost Is Detailed

It would be cheaper for San Francisco to provide its own electric power to San Francisco International Airport—$500,000 a year cheaper.

So says San Francisco's Public Utilities Manager James Carr, who last week got authority to ask PG&E for a rate reduction.

PG&E, says Carr, charges the city $692,135 per year to transmit electricly from Newark to the airport.

The electricity is generated by the city's turbines driven by the city's water at the city's dams in the Hetch Hetchy water supply system in the High Sierra.

The electricity is transmitted over city power lines from the Sierra to Newark, said Carr, where it is transferred to PG&E, transmitted over PG&E lines to the airport, transferred back to the city, and sold to airport businesses.

Carr told the city's Public Utilities Commission it would cost only $175,781 per year to transmit the power over city transmission lines from Newark, if there were any.

P.E. Recreation Program Being Offered at CSM

A variety of physical education and recreation programs—some for student credit and some strictly for public fun—are being offered this summer at College of San Mateo.

The Red Cross is co-sponsoring a class in pre-school swimming instruction on Tuesdays and Thursdays 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

D.C. Man Hangs Self

An elderly Daly City man, reported to have been despondent over ill health, committed suicide last Wednesday by hanging himself in a bedroom closet, the coroner's office reported.

Dead is Michael Zakula, 87, of 305 Palmcrest Drive. He was living with his niece, Mrs. Wilmer Sutton, and her husband.

The coroner's office reported that Zakula had a long history of heart trouble and diabetes. He had fallen and injured his back earlier this month and had been treated at Southern Pacific Hospital in San Francisco.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

The Cause of Cavities — The cause of cavities is not known, but most dentists agree sugar is considered as one of the possible factors. This is not the whole answer, but it is important to remember that if we are going to face facts, we may have to limit the sugar in our diet for the sake of our teeth. The problem is a great one. Among sugar containing items are many of the fruits, fruit juices, and vegetables. Even skimmed milk contains about 5% sugar. The list is almost endless, and includes such things as cookies, candies, soft drinks, pies, cakes, ice cream, jams, jellies, etc. Ask your dentist about the amount of sugar permissible for the health of your teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

San Jose State

REGISTRATION for a four-week summer session at San Jose State College will be held Friday, according to Dr. Leo P. Kibby, dean of summer sessions.

Students for the August 2 through August 27 session will register between 1 and 4 p.m. in room 101 of the Physical Education and Recreation Building at East San Carlos and South Fifth Streets, San Jose. Fees for regular courses will be payable at that time.

Approximately 150 courses will be offered during the final summer session. In addition to the regular courses, seven short workshops also will be conducted during the session. Students enrolling for workshops will register the first day the workshops meet.

The workshops will be held August 2 through August 6, all for one unit of credit. They are:

—Driver simulators, which will examine the use of the Aetna Drivotrainer and other driving simulators as a part of driver training;

—Teaching Modern Elementary School Mathematics, which will summarize research in connection with SMSG mathematics programs;

CREATIVE Arts Workshop, which is designed to show integration of music with art and the humanities in elementary and secondary schools;

—CONCEPTUAL Approach to the Teaching of Home Economics, which will help students develop materials for classroom teaching.

August 16, three other short courses will open. A one-week, one-unit workshop in competitive swimming and diving for women will emphasize coaching, improvement of skills and officiating.

August 16 through August 27, two two-unit workshops will be conducted: driver licensing supervisory procedures for officials engaged in licensing drivers in the western states and a workshop in foreign language (Spanish) for elementary school teachers.

California

REGISTRATION was being conducted this week for enrollment in Cal Prep, an intensive two-day orientation program for entering freshman and junior college transfers who will arrive in September for the fall semester at the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Cal Prep—in its fifth year of operation—is designed to acquaint newcomers with the university, to let them know about student activities and services and to provide answers to questions that might otherwise have to wait until the more hectic days of registration.

A $22.50 registration fee for the two-day program includes a room and meals in newly completed residence halls, beginning Thursday, September 9, and ending after breakfast, Saturday, September 11.

The students will talk with key faculty members — including at least one Nobel laureate —and team up with upper class counselors to find out more about Cal campus life.

AN IMPORTANT part of the program involves learning the traditions of the 97-year-old university. The students will be briefed on these, will participate in an afternoon outdoor rally, and attend get-acquainted dances.

A study has indicated that many participants in the Cal Prep program have turned out to be student leaders. The session, university officials say, is especially valuable to students who do not plan to be in living groups, such as dormitories and fraternities.

Checks for the Cal Prep program should be made out to the Associated Students of the University of California (ASUC) and addressed to 304 Eshelman Hall, University of California, Berkeley.

D.C. Boy, 11, Is Injured

A 12-year-old Daly City boy escaped injury Saturday afternoon when he was struck by a car at Bellevue and Crocker Avenues in Daly City.

The boy, Barney Jurand of 719 Bellevue, was examined at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and released after x-rays determined he had not sustained any injuries.

The driver of the car, Ernest Lacayo, 21, of 808 Templeton Avenue, Daly City, told police the youngster was riding on a home-made coaster and that because the boy was close to the roadway, he could not see him rolling along the street.

D.C. Fisherman Spends Night on Disabled Boat

A 73-year-old Daly City man and his twin brother, reported overdue on a fishing trip last Wednesday night, were discovered in their disabled cabin cruiser by the Coast Guard the next morning, moored off Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay.

Lester Pearsall of 285 Templeton Avenue, Daly City, and his brother, Lancing F. Pearsall of San Francisco, were forced to spend the night aboard the craft when its engine failed. A housekeeper of the San Francisco brother also was aboard the craft, the Coast Guard said.

The trio had left a San Francisco marina at 7 a.m. and when they had not returnd by 7 p.m., marina officials alerted the Coast Guard.

A cutter searched the Bay during the night and early morning without success.

A helicopter was dispatched in the morning and shortly before 8 a.m. located the disabled cruiser.

MEN 45 to 60:
It May Be EARLIER Than You THINK!

IF YOUR PRESENT JOB seems to be leading you up a blind alley you may have decided it's too late to do anything about it. This isn't necessarily so. Many of our most successful associates once felt exactly as you feel now . . . frustrated, doubtful, full of unrealized potential.

If you are intelligent, energetic we will train you to become a registered representative for one of the fastest-growing companies (assets in excess of $1,500,000,000) in the fast-growing mutual fund industry.

If you are intelligent, energetic and respected in your community, we want to talk to you. Selling experience is helpful but not necessary. In fact many of our most successful associates had never sold anything until we trained them. If you come with us you will be given intensive training which could start you down the road to a new and richer way of life — you'll learn the secret of helping yourself by helping others. We say again, "It may be earlier than you think." Write or phone for a personal interview. Everything you say or write will be held in strict confidence.

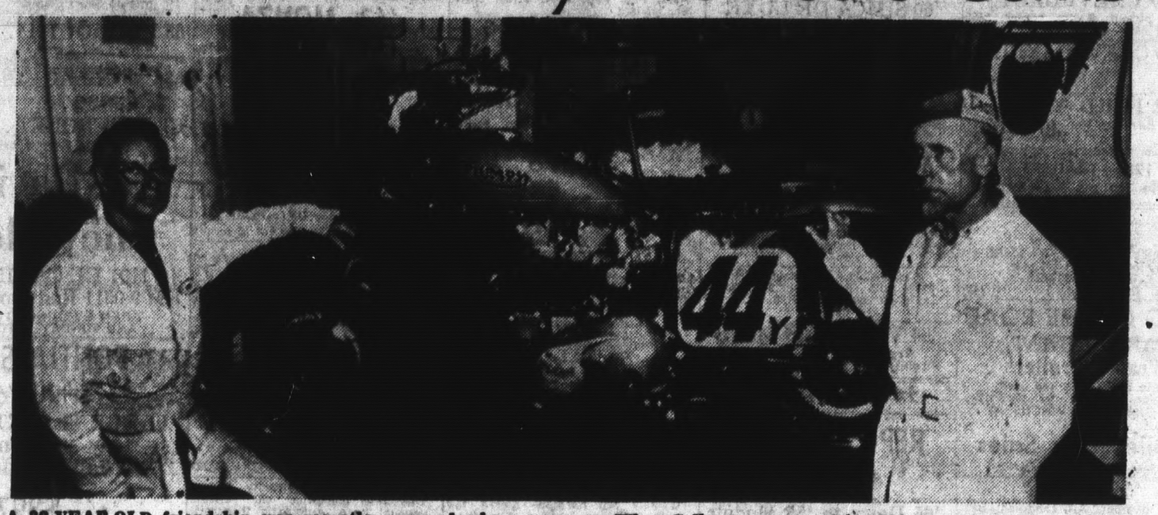
Motorcycle Experts Offer Seventy-five Years' Combined Experience



A 38-YEAR-OLD friendship was recently renewed when Pat Patterson became the service manager of Mission Boat & Cycle. Together with co-owner Cal Calhoun, they offer the firm over 75 years' experience in servicing and repairing motorcycles and outboard motors. Calhoon, who has been racing or around motorcycles since 1916, first met Patterson during the twenties when they raced against each other in the Midwest.

When Calhoon came west in 1939, he lost track of Patterson. The pair met again in 1959 at a race in Los Angeles, and then again two years ago. When Cal heard Pat was working in Gilroy, he decided he wanted "the best in the business" and so he hired Pat. Pat has been racing since 1923, and won four out of seven years at Catalina's 100-mile race. Co-owner Guy Green is not pictured. Mission Boat & Cycle is exclusive Daly City dealer for Honda and Triumph Motorcycles.
